Court Of Appeals Reverses Tom Creachbaum Conviction

Fourth District Court of Appeals judges ruled today that there was no proof establishing the intent of New Holland farmer Tom Creachbaum to defraud in a $1.2 million check "kiting" scheme.

In a directive filed Tuesday morning, presiding Judge Gordon Gray of Athens reversed a decision against Creachbaum made February, 1969 in the Pickaway County Common Pleas Court.

Appeals Court Judges Homer Abele and Earl Stephenson concurred with Gray's decision that bank President Robert Kirkpatrick knew there were insufficient funds in the bank upon which the check was drawn to cover the check. This they claimed destroys criminal intent to defraud on Creachbaum's part. The farmer's transactions with the bank were merely extensions of credit, they said.

Creachbaum's promise to sell his farm, which was purchased by the same method of check handling, was simply a promise which had no definite time limit. The judges decided that if there was any wrong to the New Holland Bank it was not in giving checks not covered by sufficient funds, but for failing to comply with his promise to deposit money to cover the checks.

COUNTY Prosecutor Roy Huffer announced today that he would appeal the decision to the Supreme Court.

An eight - woman, four - man jury reached their decision after five days of testimony and only two hours of deliberation Feb. 7 of last year.

Police Check Entry, Theft Of Big Bear

4 Minute Burglar Grabs 265 Cartons Of Cigarettes

Circleville Police are investigating the breaking and entering of the Big Bear Store, N. Court St., at 11:17 p.m. Monday night where a "speedy" burglar made off with 265 cartons of cigarettes valued at $901.

The thief pried open the exit door at the front of the store, went to the back of the store for boxes and then took the merchandise from the cigarette display at the front of the store — all within four minutes of the time the local police received the report that he had entered the store.

Sgt. Larry Pontious released a description of the burglar as "having a large cut on either his right forearm or hand." A large amount of blood was found by police in the store, apparently from a glass cut received when he pried open the door.

An attempted breaking of the local store in the same manner was reported Aug. 5 and according to Pontious, could be linked to Monday night's robbery.

Bishop Walsh To Visit Pope

HONG KONG (AP) — Roman Catholic Bishop James Walsh, who was freed by the Red Chinese July 10 after 12 years in a Communist prison, leaves Sunday for an audience with Pope Paul VI in Rome.

A Catholic spokesman said Tuesday the 79-year-old Bishop Walsh will be accompanied to Rome by Sister Patricia Fitzmaurice, chief surgeon of Maryknoll Hospital where he has been recuperating since his release.

After spending a week in Rome, the spokesman said, Bishop Walsh plans to fly to Cumberland, Md., and a reunion with his five sisters and a brother.

Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer feels the Appeals judges failed to take under consideration evidence of witnesses claiming Creachbaum said he had sold his farm a definite intent to defraud according to Ammer.

Though the appeals court did not pass on a question whether the defendant had violated any other statutes of Ohio, they set aside Creachbaum's conviction because he was not proven guilty of the crime for which he was charged.

Former Herald Editor Retires At Fremont News

Glen R. Geib, a newspaper man since high school days in New Philadelphia, has retired as editor of the Fremont News-Messenger after more than 25 years in that position.

A native of New Philadelphia, Geib began his career with the community newspaper while still in high school. Following a stint as sports editor for the Dover Daily Reporter, he came to Circleville in 1929 where he became the Herald's youngest editor at the age of 20 years.

For 15 years he served the local paper with that title and little help. Aside from society page articles, he was respon-

McGovern Hits 'Fear Climate'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern charged today the Nixon administration has created a climate of fear to muzzle the press, and warned unchecked presidential access to television could bring one-man rule.

"What we are witnessing is an incredible paradox in which the administration seeks to silence its critics in the media while exploiting the use of the media for its own message to an unprecedented degree," McGovern said.

McGovern, the subject Monday of an attack by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew for his sponsorship of the "amendment to end the war," said Agnew appears to be saying: "If you disagree with the message, choke the messenger."

The South Dakota Democrat's remarks were prepared for delivery this morning to a student-faculty audience at Washington's American University.

"The deliberate effort of the Nixon-Agnew administration to harass and intimidate the press is a serious threat to our free society," McGovern said.

He recited Agnew's various attacks on the media; President Nixon's complaint the press had glorified a man on trial for murder; and the assertion of Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell that there is no legal barrier against the Justice Department subpoenaing a reporter's notes or unused radio and television tapes and films.

McGovern quoted the President's daughter, Tricia Nixon as saying, "He, Agnew, is amazing, what he has done to the media, helping reform itself. . . I think they've taken a second look. You can't underestimate the power of fear. They're afraid if they don't shape up."

"They seem to believe that the simple fact that on one day in November 1968 Mr. Nixon and Mr. Agnew received the support of 43 per cent of the voters means that they should be favored by the media for the next four years," McGovern said.

There were 18 charges of writing bad checks against him, totalling over 1.2 million dollars. Of these only four could be determined to have been written in Pickaway County, amounting to some $200,000.

Creachbaum was sentenced to the Ohio State Penitentiary for all 18 counts, which could run for a minimum of 4 years to a maximum of 28 years. He has been free under $50,000 bond since sentencing while appeal actions were being taken.

He handled the editorial page, gathered and wrote all local news, obituaries and served as sports editor. All wire service material which provides state, national and international news was edited by Geib before going to print.

THE titled Jack-of-All-Trades left Circleville to join the Fremont publication staff in March, 1944.

In retiring from his position as editor of the News-Messenger, Geib will not disassociate himself from the world of journalism. He will remain on the Messenger staff as associate editor serving as a consultant for the editorial department. In addition, he will be in charge of the weekly farm pages and responsible for the editorial page.

In an editorial, the Fremont News said of Geib, "When a man as hard working, sincere and determined as Mr. Glen Geib spends more than a quarter of a century in a position of great responsibility he is sure to leave an indelible impression on the organization of which he was a part. And when his organization plays a key role in the community, his impression is also made on the community."

In praise, the editorial was completed with "It is important to note that Mr. Geib will remain as a member of the staff, serving as a consultant in the position of Associate Editor. His experience and community spirit will remain a part of the News-Messenger's efforts and we intend to use both at every opportunity."

Geib is the brother-in-law of Mrs. Robert J. Shadley, 324 E. Mound St.

Ohio Senators Split On Military Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's two senators cast opposing votes Monday as the Senate defeated, 43-22, an amendment to the military procurement bill seeking to require the Pentagon to notify Congress whenever it deviated from a "fly-before-you-buy" policy.

Democrat Stephen M. Young voted for the amendment; Republican William B. Saxbe against.

Expect Override Of Nixon's Veto Of Education Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of both parties predict the Senate will enact a $4.4 billion education money bill for the current fiscal year by overriding President Nixon's veto.

The House rejected the veto last Thursday. If the Senate follows suit, the bill becomes law despite Nixon's objections.

The Senate vote was scheduled at 4:30 p.m. today.

Democratic sponsors of the bill were confident in advance of the test they would win the needed two-thirds. Republican

Israeli Media Eyes Relations With America

Express Dismay Over Direction Being Taken

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli newspapers expressed dismay today at the deterioration in U.S.-Israeli relations because of Washington's refusal to support Israeli charges that Egypt has violated the cease-fire agreement.

The newspaper urged the United States to make Egypt observe the cease-fire's prohibition on changes in the military situation within 30 miles of the Suez Canal, an area where the Israeli government charges the Egyptians have been placing SAM2 and SAM3 antiaircraft missiles since the standstill Aug. 7.

The Israelis say they have sent Washington proof that the missiles are being moved, but the United States says it has not been able to substantiate the charge.

The Jerusalem Post, which often reflects official thinking, said that "the American refusal to accept the inconvenient facts of the Egyptian breach of the standstill has undermined Israeli faith in American intentions."

The paper said no one expects Egyptian President Gamal Ab-

Voting Age Suits Filed In High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, taking its first court action to carry out Congress' mandate to give 18-year-olds the vote, has asked the Supreme Court for an early ruling on the constitutionality of the law.

Idaho and Arizona were named defendants in the suits filed Monday by the Justice Department to test the legality of the lowered voting age and two other provisions of the Voting Rights Act of 1970.

"The Justice Department picked the two states they figured would be the easiest to push around, but they've got a fight on their hands," declared Idaho Atty. Gen. Robert Robinson.

Arizona Atty. Gen. Gary K. Nelson was not immediately available for comment, but earlier he asked Atty. Gen. John Mitchell for a court test.

The Justice Department, which filed the suits directly in the Supreme Court, did not seek a special summer session but asked that groundwork be laid for arguments soon after the court reconvenes Oct. 5.

In addition, it sought special orders requiring states with literacy tests to register otherwise eligible illiterates for voting in the general election, should the court uphold the new law's ban on literacy tests.

Although only Idaho and Arizona were named defendants, the court's eventual decision on 18-year-old voting will apply to the 48 states that now have higher minimum age requirements.

In vetoing it a week ago today, Nixon said the extra money might mean benefits for some groups, but the overall effect would be inflationary and would add greatly to the government's fiscal troubles.

The biggest increase over the budget is $232 million for the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, designed chiefly to improve educational opportunities for poor children.

The second biggest overrun, $126 million, is for the impacted

FUNERAL CORTEGE — Scheduled for burial 16,000 feet deep in the Atlantic Ocean 282 miles off Cape Kennedy, Fla., a rusty World War II Liberty Ship with 67 tons of potentially dangerous nerve gas aboard is towed along the Atlantic Seaboard.

Scuttling Of Gas Laden Liberty Ship Has Begun

ABOARD THE USS HARTLEY (AP) — Water poured into the hold of the dilapidated Liberty ship LeBaron Russell Briggs today and the hulk began sinking with its controversial load of nerve gas.

An eight-man team of specialists spent about two hours aboard the ship preparing it for scuttling. Then they turned wheels on the deck opening seven valves deep in the hold of the rusting vessel.

Sea water began flowing in at 11:45 a.m., EDT, and the slow sinking process began.

Navy Capt. A. G. Hamilton, in charge of the sinking operation, estimated the Briggs would take four to six hours to disappear beneath the waves and another 30 minutes to plummet 16,000 feet to the bottom in the munitions disposal area 282 miles east of Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Going down with the World War II freighter were 418 concrete and steel vaults, each containing 30 rockets of GB nerve gas, a total of 12,540. One coffin holds a land mine containing highly toxic VX gas.

Army chemical experts say the gas will be neutralized by mixing with sea water when it escapes and will be harmless within hours.

Florida Gov. Claude Kirk and a group of conservationists tried through the courts to halt the dumping. The Army contended it was necessary to dispose of the obsolete gas as soon as possible because it believed some of the gas already was leaking inside the vaults. This would have created a danger of detonation if it seeped into the rock of propellants.

The scuttling operation began

West Virginia Man Killed Near Chillicothe

almost immediately after the gas ship arrived at the disposal site at 9:30 a.m., EDT, under tow by the commercial tug Elizabeth Moran. The Briggs had left the Sunny Point, N.C., military port Sunday, accompanied by the destroyer escort USS Hartley and the Coast Guard cutter Mendota. The Hartley arrived at the disposal area three hours before the Briggs and marked the exact burial spot with a smoke bomb.

The eight-man crew of specialists went by small boats from the Hartley and the Mendota to prepare the ship for sinking.

The first thing they did was go below deck where the nerve gas coffins were stored and checked six rabbits who had been the only passengers on the old freighter.

"We've got six healthy rabbits here," one of the team radioed. If the rabbits had been dead or ill, it would have indicated a possible gas leakage.

Ervin Amends Rights Bill To Help Protect Women

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., who says he wants to give women the best of both worlds, is leading an attack against the House version of a constitutional amendment to guarantee women equal rights with men.

The North Carolina Democrat, considered one of the Senate experts on the Constitution, has no quarrel with the portion of the House-passed amendment that invalidates laws discriminating against women.

But he plans to introduce Wednesday a substitute that also would retain laws designed to protect women. This provision, for example, would continue to exempt the fairer sex from the draft.

He said in an interview that if the amendment passed by the House last week by a 350-15 vote should be approved by the Senate and ratified by the states, it would create chaos in the field of constitutional law.

Governor Faces Plague

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Gov. David F. Cargo says fleas infected with bubonic plague have been found on his family's mongrel dog Snoopy.

But Cargo said the dog had been completely defleeced and health officials said there was little chance of the governor's family contracting the dread disease.

Cargo acknowledged reluctantly Monday that Snoopy had been found harboring fleas infected with the scourge that decimated the population of Europe in the Middle Ages.

"He's been completely defleeced," Cargo said. "They've had some trouble with the plague in the neighborhood and took some precautions on it."

The affluent residential area in the hills north of Santa Fe, site of the governor's residence, produced last week New Mexico's fifth case of the plague this year. The unidentified 20-year-old woman was reported recovering.

He said constitutional lawyers with whom he has consulted say the proposed amendment—which has been pending in Congress 47 years—either means nothing or would have the effect of invalidating all federal and state laws making any distinction between men and women.

"I don't know which is the correct, adoption of the amendment or if the latter interpretation is correct, adoption of the amendment 'would leave a vacuum that only could be filled by subsequent acts of Congress and the state legislatures."

On Ervin's motion, the Senate Judiciary Committee voted last Wednesday to take testimony from constitutional authorities and explore all legal ramifications of the House-passed amendment.

But Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., had it placed on the Senate calendar without being referred to the Judiciary Committee for consideration.

The effect was to put the amendment in position to be called up in the Senate at any time. Mansfield has said he wants to bring it up right after Labor Day, terming the Sept. 19 deadline set by the Judiciary Committee too late.

Cash Exchange Leaves Store

Short Of Money

CORK, Ireland (AP) — Since Irish banks are strike bound, the clerk in an exclusive Cork department store obligingly cashed a banknote for 10,000 German reichmarks for a customer with an American accent.

Out walked the client with 1,090 Irish pounds ($2,940) in his wallet.

Then the clerk on the foreign exchange counter Monday at the Munster Arcade did a double take—Germans have deutchmarks nowadays, not reichmarks.

Even when the note was issued in Berlin in 1922 -- at the height of German inflation after World War I—it would scarcely have bought a loaf of bread.

Cut Amount Of Reserves Held By Banks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moving to the aid of the troubled housing industry and state and local governments, the Federal Reserve Board has reduced the percentage of large-scale time deposits banks must withhold from the lending market.

In orders Monday, the board also set a new reserve requirement for some of the money its affiliates raise by issuing commercial paper—short-term promissory notes — when the money is channeled into the bank to give it new funds for lending.

The board reduced to 5 per cent the portion of time deposits over $5 million commercial banks must set aside, usually by depositing it in regional Federal Reserve Banks. The requirement had been 6 per cent since 1966. The 3 per cent requirement for time deposits under $5 million was left unchanged.

The new requirement on commercial paper proceeds will be 5 per cent when the changes take effect Sept. 17.

The board's move on time deposit reserves was one step—not a very large one—toward easier money. It will tend to make a little more money available for lending, and the board made clear it wants state and local governments and housing to get most of the benefit.

However, it left unchanged the reserve requirements on checking account deposits. Those have ranged from 12½ to 17½ per cent since April 17, 1969, when they were raised one-half of 1 per cent.

The effect of the two changes, by board estimate, will be a $350 million increase in money available for loans. They apply to 5,800 of the nation's 13,000 banks—every nationally chartered bank and those state banks that choose to be members of the Federal Reserve System.

The remaining state banks must meet reserve requirements set by their states.

Editor Fired For Operation Razor Blade

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The editor of the Lackland Air Force Base newspaper, who notified a U.S. senator when 15 airmen were ordered to slash a general's photograph from 10,000 copies of the paper, said today he was fired once before from his present job.

Sgt. John Polich, 24, formerly a newsman with the Arizona Republic, said he and the assistant editor of Lackland's "Tale Spinner," Jim Palmer, formerly a sportswriter with the Fort Worth, Tex., Star-Telegram, were temporarily relieved of duty earlier this year.

They were sent to another section, where they "addressed envelopes" for about six weeks, Polich of Las Vegas, Nev., said. He said they were fired because, among other reasons, base information officials did not like the way articles were displayed.

They were reinstated about two months ago, Polich said. Then came what he called "Operation Razor Blade" and Palmer again was fired.

The razor blade incident grew out of a photo of Maj. Gen. John S. Samuel, his wife, and another general.

Lackland information officers said that the cropping was inappropriate and ordered 15 airmen to cut the photo out of 10,000 copies of the paper with razor blades, Polich said. He said it took about six hours.

Express Dismay Over Direction Being Taken

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli newspapers expressed dismay today at the deterioration in U.S.-Israeli relations because of Washington's refusal to support Israeli charges that Egypt has violated the cease-fire agreement.

Voting Age Suits Filed In High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, taking its first court action to carry out Congress' mandate to give 18-year-olds the vote, has asked the Supreme Court for an early ruling on the constitutionality of the law.

Idaho and Arizona were named defendants in the suits filed Monday by the Justice Department to test the legality of the lowered voting age and two other provisions of the Voting Rights Act of 1970.

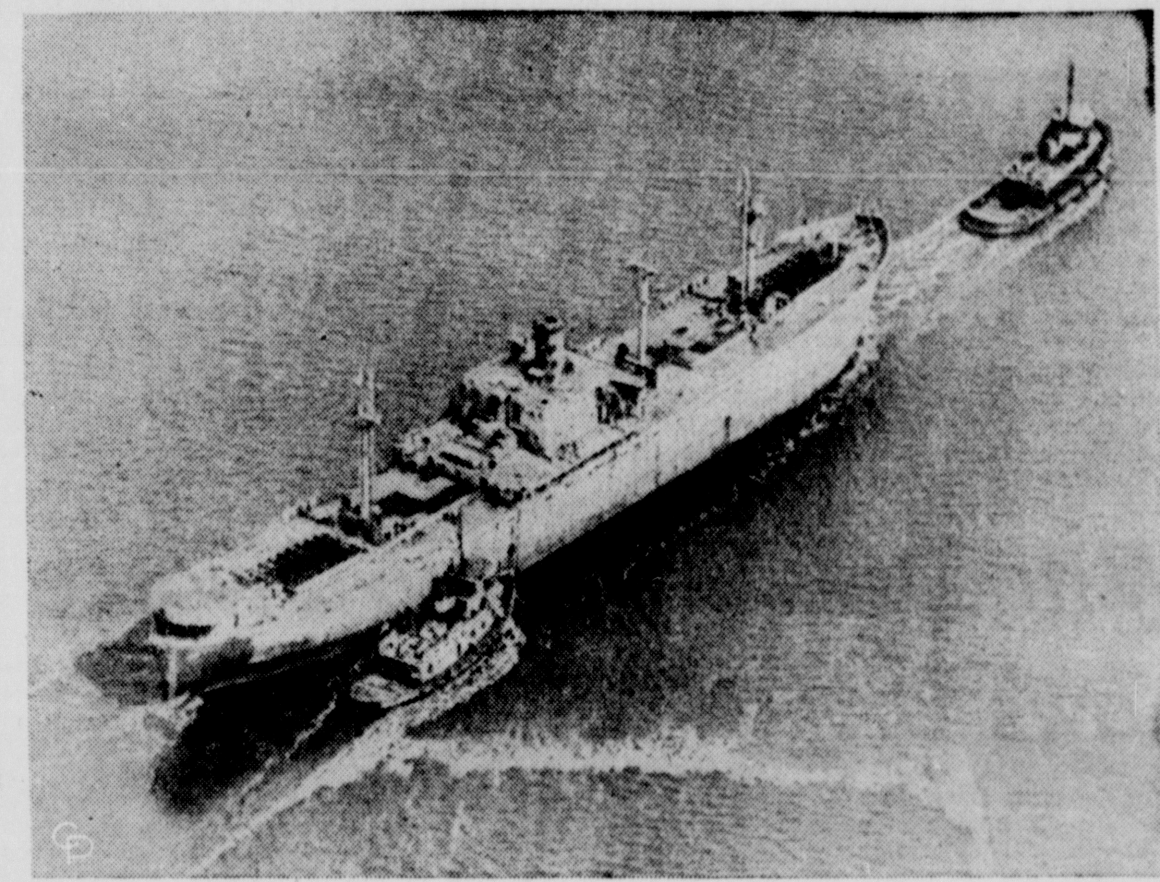

"The Justice Department picked the two states they figured would be the easiest to push around, but they've got a fight on their hands," declared Idaho Atty. Gen. Robert Robson.

Arizona Atty. Gen. Gary K. Nelson was not immediately available for comment, but earlier he asked Atty. Gen. John Mitchell for a court test.

The Justice Department, which filed the suits directly in the Supreme Court, did not seek a special summer session but asked that groundwork be laid for arguments soon after the court reconvenes Oct. 5.

In addition, it sought special orders requiring states with literacy tests to register otherwise eligible illiterates for voting in the general election, should the court uphold the new law's ban on literacy tests.

Although only Idaho and Arizona were named defendants, the court's eventual decision on 18-year-old voting will apply to the 48 states that now have higher minimum age requirements.

Navy Capt. A. G. Hamilton, in charge of the sinking operation, estimated the Briggs would take four to six hours to disappear beneath the waves and another 30 minutes to plummet 16,000 feet to the bottom in the munitions disposal area 282 miles east of Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Going down with the World War II freighter were 418 concrete and steel vaults, each containing 30 rockets of GB nerve gas, a total of 12,540. One coffin holds a land mine containing highly toxic VX gas.

Army chemical experts say the gas will be neutralized by mixing with sea water when it escapes and will be harmless within hours.

Florida Gov. Claude Kirk and a group of conservationists tried "through the courts to halt the dumping. The Army contended it was necessary to dispose of the obsolete gas as soon as possible because it believed some of the gas already was leaking inside the vaults. This would have created a danger of detonation if it seeped into the rock-nobellants.

West Virginia Man Killed Near Chillicothe

CHILICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Charles E. Workman, 39, of Fort Gay, W. Va., died late Monday of injuries received several hours earlier when his motorcycle slammed into the side of a turning car on U. S. 23 north of here.

Workman was thrown over the car into another auto.

almost immediately after the gas ship arrived at the disposal site at 9:30 a.m., EDT, under tow by the commercial tug Elizabeth Moran. The Briggs had left the Sunny Point, N.C., military port Sunday, accompanied by the destroyer escort USS Hartley and the Coast Guard cutter Mendota. The Hartley arrived at the disposal area three hours before the Briggs and marked the exact burial spot with a smoke bomb.

The eight-man crew of specialists went by small boats from the Hartley and the Mendota to prepare the ship for sinking.

The first thing they did was go below deck where the nerve gas coffins were stored and checked six rabbits who had been the only passengers on the old freighter.

"We've got six healthy rabbits here," one of the team radioed. If the rabbits had been dead or ill, it would have indicated a possible gas leakage.

Then the team rigged hydraulic

Ervin Amends Rights Bill To Help Protect Women

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., who says he wants to give women the best of both worlds, is leading an attack against the House version of a constitutional amendment to guarantee women equal rights with men.

The North Carolina Democrat, considered one of the Senate experts on the Constitution, has no quarrel with the portion of the House-passed amendment that invalidates laws discriminating against women.

But he plans to introduce Wednesday a substitute that also would retain laws designed to protect women. This provision, for example, would continue to exempt the fairer sex from the draft.

He said in an interview that if the amendment passed by the House last week by a 350-15 vote should be approved by the Senate and ratified by the states, it would create chaos in the field of constitutional law.

Governor Faces Plague

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Gov. David F. Cargo says fleas infected with bubonic plague have been found on his family's mongrel dog Snoopy.

But Cargo said the dog had been completely defleeced and health officials said there was little chance of the governor's family contracting the dread disease.

Cargo acknowledged reluctantly Monday that Snoopy had been found harboring fleas infected with the scourge that decimated the population of Europe in the Middle Ages.

"He's been completely defleeced," Cargo said. "They've had some trouble with the plague in the neighborhood and took some precautions on it."

The affluent residential area in the hills north of Santa Fe, site of the governor's residence, produced last week New Mexico's fifth case of the plague this year. The unidentified 20-year-old woman was reported recovering.

Cash Exchange Leaves Store Short Of Money

CORK, Ireland (AP) — Since Irish banks are strike bound, the clerk in an exclusive Cork department store obligingly cashed a banknote for 10,000 German reichmarks for a customer with an American accent.

Out walked the client with 1,090 Irish pounds ($2,940) in his wallet.

Then the clerk on the foreign exchange counter Monday at the Munster Arcade did a double take—Germans have deutschmarks nowadays, not reichmarks.

Even when the note was issued in Berlin in 1922 -- at the height of German inflation after World War I—it would scarcely have bought a loaf of bread.

Cut Amount Of Reserves Held By Banks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moving to the aid of the troubled housing industry and state and local governments, the Federal Reserve Board has reduced the percentage of large-scale time deposits banks must withhold from the lending market.

In orders Monday, the board also set a new reserve requirement for some of the money its affiliates raise by issuing commercial paper—short-term promissory notes — when the money is channeled into the bank to give it new funds for lending.

The board reduced to 5 per cent the portion of time deposits over $5 million commercial banks must set aside, usually by depositing it in regional Federal Reserve Banks. The requirement had been 6 per cent since 1966. The 3 per cent requirement for time deposits under $5 million was left unchanged.

The new requirement on commercial paper proceeds will be 5 per cent when the changes take effect Sept. 17.

The board's move on time deposit reserves was one step—not a very large one—toward easier money. It will tend to make a little more money available for lending, and the board made clear it wants state and local governments and housing to get most of the benefit.

However, it left unchanged the reserve requirements on checking account deposits. Those have ranged from 12½ to 17½ per cent since April 17, 1969, when they were raised one-half of 1 per cent.

The effect of the two changes, by board estimate, will be a $350 million increase in money available for loans. They apply to 5,800 of the nation's 13,000 banks—every nationally chartered bank and those state banks that choose to be members of the Federal Reserve System.

The remaining state banks must meet reserve requirements set by their states.

Editor Fired For Operation Razor Blade

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The editor of the Lackland Air Force Base newspaper, who notified a U.S. senator when 15 airmen were ordered to slash a general's photograph from 10,000 copies of the paper, said today he was fired once before from his present job.

S.Sgt. John Polich, 24, formerly a newsmen with the Arizona Republic, said he and the assistant editor of Lackland's "Tale Spinner," Jim Palmer, formerly a sportswriter with the Fort Worth, Tex., Star-Telegram, were temporarily relieved of duty earlier this year.

They were sent to another section, where they "addressed envelopes" for about six weeks. Polich of Las Vegas, Nev., said. He said they were fired because, among other reasons, base information officials did not like the way articles were displayed.

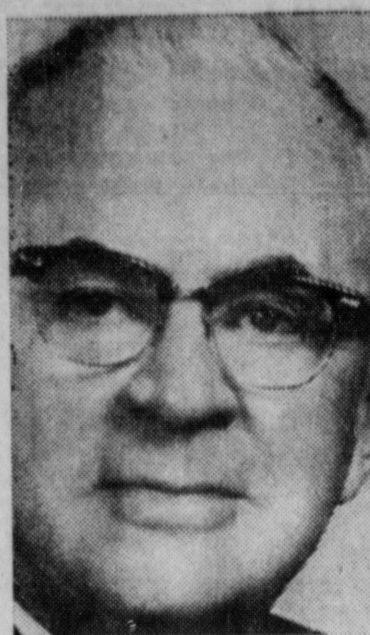

They were reinstated about two months ago, Polich said. Then came what some call "Operation Razor Blade" and Pa'mer again was fired.

The razor blade incident grew out of a photo of Maj. Gen. John S. Samuel, his wife, and another general.

Lackland information officers said that the cropping was inappropriate and ordered 15 airmen to cut the photo out of 10,000 copies of the paper with razor blades. Polich said. He said it took about six hours.

Mount Of Praise Camp Session Set For Opening This Week

Friday marks the beginning of the 52nd annual session of the Mount of Praise Camp Meeting in Circleville.

Beginning Wednesday, ministers and delegates from churches all over the United States will gather at the Mount of Praise Camp Ground on East Ohio St. for the twelfth general council of the Churches of Christ in Christian Union. The business sessions will be held daily through Saturday.

Thursday evening will be devoted to the youth service. Rev. Dorothy Meadows has been selected speaker for this special service. Other entertainment will be provided by the Circleville Bible College Ambassador Quartet.

Special speakers for the annual encampment will be Dr. Donald E. Snow of Grand Rapids, Mich., Dr. John R.

Church of Winston Salem, N. C., and Rev. John DeMint of Circleville. Rev. Tim Rapp of Waverly will serve again this year as song evangelist.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Born, Circleville residents, will minister daily to the children attending the camp meeting.

Daily preaching services are conducted at 10:30 each morning and at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m.

These services are open to the public.

Children's services are held at 7:30 p.m. and 10:30 a.m. beginning Friday night. Children of school age are invited to attend.

There will be daily missionary services from 8:30 to 9:30 each morning beginning Monday. Speakers will be Rev. and Mrs. Leland Johnson who have just returned from a term of service in New Guinea, Miss Barbara Rogers from Dominica and other missionaries.

Saturday, Aug. 29 has been designated for the annual missionary service beginning 2 p.m. Rev. James Lentz of Marion, Ind. will present the address covering his world travels and ministering.

Witnesses Say Ohio Divorce Laws Bring Unlawful Acts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio divorce laws sometimes force people into committing unlawful acts to end their marriages, a legislative committee was told Monday.

Attorney Stanton Darling of Columbus said it is more expedient for a man wanting a divorce to be caught in an adulterous act than to try to prove nagging.

William J. McLaughlin of Akron, representing the Commission for Divorce Law Reform, said he knows of cases "where the attorneys have actually told their clients to do something unlawful to get a divorce."

Darling and McLaughlin were among a number of witnesses who attacked a provision of Ohio law that requires one of the parties in a divorce suit to prove the other at fault.

The eight-member joint committee, headed by Rep. Alan E. Norris, R-59, Westerville, is considering divorce law reform.

Josiah Blackmore, a law professor at Capital University, told the committee the fault provision was used "as a club to keep marriages intact."

"It hasn't produced happy marriages," Blackmore said, urging abolition of the provision.

Judge John Milligan of Canton called the uncontested divorce, in which the party wanting the divorce comes in with three witnesses, a "farce." He asked the legislature to establish guidelines for judges.

One of the witnesses who felt the fault provision should remain, Anthony Fioretti, a law professor at Cleveland State University, said marriage was a valid contract. "A divorce case should be tried as any other civil case," he said.

He agreed with a suggestion by Judge Walter Bolton of Newark that custody, alimony and property settlement matters handled by juvenile court after a divorce is granted in common pleas court.

Jonathan Prorock of Columbus suggested three persons rather than a single judge should decide the validity of a divorce request.

"If you have some property, it's like a war," he said of divorce proceedings. "You have to give up everything to get a divorce. When one man makes a decision, he's like a dictator."

The Divorce Reform Committee is comprised of five members from the House Judiciary Committee and three from the Senate Judiciary Committee. All are lawyers.

Chairman Norris said the committee wants to look for a way to strengthen family ties, "not to devise ways to make divorces easier to obtain."

del Nasser to keep his commitments, "and that is why we want to see these pinnas down very clearly. But once these become very doubtful the ceasefire is once more entirely a matter between Egypt and Israel, and all supervision is illusory."

"If the Americans place serious hopes in their initiative they will have to act fast and in the open. Secret promises and secret warnings are losing their value on the diplomatic market."

The independent daily Haaretz took a different line. It urged the government "to look forward, not backward," and drew comfort from Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird's statement that Washington would try to maintain the arms balance in the Middle East during the cease-fire.

phones and depth charges around the superstructure of the ship. The charges were to detonate under water pressure at various depths to pinpoint the sinking rate.

The crew also removed plates from the valve openings below deck so that they could be more readily opened when the wheels were turned on deck. When everything was ready, Hamilton gave the order to sink the Briggs.

The team stayed aboard long enough to make certain the holds were flooding properly and then returned to the escort ships with salvageable equipment such as running lights and the rabbits.

The tug will remain attached to the Briggs by a 600-foot line until it is sinking.

Hamilton said the sinking rate is unknown, but that previous hulks with similar weight have required four to six hours to slip below the waves and another half hour to reach bottom.

The Briggs probably will sideslip as it goes down and may drift as far as three miles before hitting the ocean floor 16,000 feet below.

The Hartley will locate the Briggs precisely in its ocean grave by radio signals from the bulk.

The Navy wants to know the position, because a scientific expedition plans to revisit the site in October to take water samples to determine if leaking gas has had any effect on the area. Among those who will make the return trip is Dr. Conrad Cheek, head of the chemical oceanography branch in the Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D.C.

Cheek, aboard the Hartley, will be busy after the sinking gathering water samples from 10 bottles which are to both the surface between two and eight hours after the Briggs goes down.

He said the bottles are fastened to the bulk by magnesium bars of varying width. The narrowest bar will corrode first in the salt water and send its 13-inch water container to the surface on a basketball-size glass float.

Each float has a flashing light and radio beacon to aid in finding it.

Cheek will make tests to determine if any nerve agent is present. The water will be sent to laboratories at Woods Hole, Mass., and the Naval Research Laboratory for additional tests.

Operators of the dumping, who mounted last-ditch court efforts to halt it, argued that the gas would be harmful to marine life.

Cheek said any marine life in the immediate area of leaking gas would be endangered. But he said if there are living creatures there they most likely would be sponges, fish, such as sea urchins or starfish.

"In all the undersea photos I've seen of the area, I saw no sea life," he said. "But I didn't see all the photos."

He said the effect of leaking gas would be localized because currents in the area move slowly, at about one-tenth of a mile an hour, and they are somewhat circular.

Kingston Man Appointed To Police Dept.

PAT DREWRY

Circleville Police Chief Robert Temple has appointed a new patrolman to the Circleville Police Department effective Aug. 16.

Pat Drewry, 23 Woodland, Kingston, was appointed by Temple after he passed the Civil Service examination. Drewry will work the day shift at the local PD.

Drewry, who originally hails from Clarksville, Ind., has lived in Kingston for three years with his wife, Sandra, and his three children. Before joining the department, the new officer was a credit manager at Sears in Chillicothe.

Drewry is a high school graduate and attended Indiana University for two years.

Road Project Discontinued

Pickaway County Commissioners Monday passed a resolution to discontinue an improvement project on the Ashville - Fairfield Road in Walnut Twp.

The project has been discontinued because of "right of way problems" according to commissioners. Contract for the project, which was awarded to V & Y Construction, has been voided.

In Monday's session commissioners Wayne Hines, Dick T. Tootle and Charles Morris discussed the county's jail contract with the city of Circleville.

The county solons noted the new contract has never been returned to them and does not contain their signatures.

A truck camper, stolen early Tuesday morning in Tarlton, was recovered five hours later in the parking lot of the Owens-Illinois Circleville plant.

The camper, belonging to Ned A. Young, was taken from in front of his home about 2:30 a.m.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Don Thompson recovered the vehicle at 7:30 a.m., abandoned in the parking lot.

New Engine For Datsuns Pollution Free

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Signing of a multi million-dollar contract for mass production of a pollution-free, Freon-powered engine for Datsun automobiles was announced today by Wallace L. Minto, Sarasota research scientist.

Minto said the engine, perfected after three years of full-time work by his Kinetics Corp., would produce a "breathable exhaust."

The contract calls for delivery of a demonstrator model within six months and a production prototype in 18 months. Minto said the engine would be used in a few 1972 models and production would step up rapidly after that.

Nissan Motor Co., producer of Datsun, purchased only Asian rights, Minto said, leaving him free to negotiate agreements with American and European car makers.

Freon is a trade name of the DuPont company for a high pressure gas which results from heating fluoro-carbon. It also is produced by The Union Carbide Co. under the name Unco and is used as a cooling agent in refrigerators and air conditioners and a pressure agent in vaporizers.

In Minto's engine, the liquid chemical becomes gas after heating and drives the engine. The gas then goes through a condensing unit built into the roof of the car, returns to liquid form and is used again.

Farrar, a Republican, displayed a slice while Guy, a Democrat, hit to the left. After a brief debate, both concluded their drives had no political significance.

Kingston Man Appointed To Police Dept.

PAT DREWRY

Circleville Police Chief Robert Temple has appointed a new patrolman to the Circleville Police Department effective Aug. 16.

Pat Drewry, 23 Woodland, Kingston, was appointed by Temple after he passed the Civil Service examination. Drewry will work the day shift at the local PD.

Drewry, who originally hails from Clarksville, Ind., has lived in Kingston for three years with his wife, Sandra, and his three children. Before joining the department, the new officer was a credit manager at Sears in Chillicothe.

Drewry is a high school graduate and attended Indiana University for two years.

Installation Of K Of C Officers Held

Installation of officers for the coming year highlighted the regular meeting Monday evening of Hannan Council 5297, Knights of Columbus.

The installation rites were conducted by District Deputy Stan Stevens and District Warden Tom Shea in the local council rooms on South Pickaway Street.

Officers include: Grand Knight, Roger McConnell; Deputy Grand Knight, Frank Plescia; Chancellor, Ed Riley; Financial Secretary, George Ebbrecht; Recorder, Richard Theis; Warden, Vic Riffe; Treasurer, William Mellick; Lecturer, James Butler; Trustee, Dallas Elliott Jr.; Advocate, Ralph May; Inside Guard, Myron Scheib; and Outside Guard, Mike Stonerock.

During a business session, Grand Knight McConnell expressed appreciation to Chet Iery Jr. and David Iery for managing a champion little league ball team this summer. The team was sponsored by the Knights of Columbus. Dallas Elliott Jr. was named chairman of arrangements for a championship celebration honoring the team and managers. Date set for the affair is August 31.

New Engine For Datsuns Pollution Free

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Signing of a multi million-dollar contract for mass production of a pollution-free, Freon-powered engine for Datsun automobiles was announced today by Wallace L. Minto, Sarasota research scientist.

Minto said the engine, perfected after three years of full-time work by his Kinetics Corp., would produce a "breathable exhaust."

The contract calls for delivery of a demonstrator model within six months and a production prototype in 18 months. Minto said the engine would be used in a few 1972 models and production would step up rapidly after that.

Nissan Motor Co., producer of Datsun, purchased only Asian rights, Minto said, leaving him free to negotiate agreements with American and European car makers.

Freon is a trade name of the DuPont company for a high pressure gas which results from heating fluoro-carbon. It also is produced by The Union Carbide Co. under the name Unco and is used as a cooling agent in refrigerators and air conditioners and a pressure agent in vaporizers.

In Minto's engine, the liquid chemical becomes gas after heating and drives the engine. The gas then goes through a condensing unit built into the roof of the car, returns to liquid form and is used again.

Governors Vie, But Welk Wins

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — Gov. Frank Farris of South Dakota edged North Dakota Gov. William L. Guy by one stroke Monday with a 46-over-par 118 at the Governor's Cup golf match at the Fargo Country Club.

Both governors were beaten by band leader Lawrence Welk, 67, a native of Strasburg, N.D., who shot an 89 in the annual amateur event.

Farris, a Republican, displayed a slice while Guy, a Democrat, hit to the left. After a brief debate, both concluded their drives had no political significance.

Ashville Man Bound To Grand Jury

Edward Butler, Randolph St., Ashville, was bound over to the September session of the Pickaway County grand jury on $500 bond by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb on malicious burning charges.

Butler was charged Tuesday morning by Betty Butler for allegedly burning two ladies sweaters and a seat pad valued at $25.

Witnesses Say Ohio Divorce Laws Bring Unlawful Acts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio divorce laws sometimes force people into committing unlawful acts to end their marriages, a legislative committee was told Monday.

Attorney Stanton Darling of Columbus said it is more expedient for a man wanting a divorce to be caught in a plot to prove adultery than to try to prove nagging.

William J. McLaughlin of Akron, representing the Commission for Divorce Law Reform, said he knows of cases "where the attorneys have actually told their clients to do something unlawful to get a divorce."

Darling and McLaughlin were among a number of witnesses who attacked a provision of Ohio law that requires one of the parties in a divorce suit to prove the other at fault.

The eight-member joint committee, headed by Rep. Alan E. Norris, R-59, Westerville, is considering divorce law reform.

Josiah Blackmore, a law professor at Capital University, told the committee the fault provision was used "as a club to keep marriages intact."

"It hasn't produced happy marriages," Blackmore said, urging abolition of the provision.

Judge John Milligan of Canton called the uncontested divorce, in which the party wanting the divorce comes in with three witnesses, a "farce." He asked the legislature to establish guidelines for judges.

One of the witnesses who felt the fault provision should remain, Anthony Fioretti, a law professor at Cleveland State University, said marriage was a valid contract. "A divorce case should be tried as any other civil case," he said.

He agreed with a suggestion by Judge Walter Bolton of Newark that custody, alimony and property settlement matters handled by juvenile court after a divorce is granted in common pleas court.

Jonathan Prorock of Columbus suggested three persons rather than a single judge should decide the validity of a divorce request.

"If you have some property, it's like a war," he said of divorce proceedings. "You have to give up everything to get a divorce. When one man makes a decision, he's like a dictator."

The Divorce Reform Committee is comprised of five members from the House Judiciary Committee and three from the Senate Judiciary Committee. All are lawyers.

Chairman Norris said the committee wants to look for a way to strengthen family ties, "not to devise ways to make divorces easier to obtain."

Let's Tour Ohio

Circleville, Lancaster Tour Offers Numerous Attractions

EDITOR'S NOTE: One of a series of short tours of Ohio travel attractions prepared by Columbus Auto Club Travel Department for the Herald.

There are many attractions on a tour between Lancaster and Circleville, so plan plenty of time to stop and enjoy them.

Ohio community festivals rate among the nation's best, and it saves its largest for last. Billed as the "biggest free show on earth," the Circleville Pumpkin Show is set for Oct. 21-24. Upwards of 300,000 visitors will jam Circleville (pop. 11,000) to see five parades, contests, displays and entertainment, and to try pumpkin made into an almost unending array of foods from burgers to waffles to ice cream.

Among three Lancaster stops is the Sherman State Memorial, the birthplace and early home of William Tecumseh Sherman, Civil War general, and his brother, Senator John Sherman, author of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act. It is well preserved and authentically furnished. Open 9:30 to 5, except Monday. Admission charge.

In the city's excellent Rising Park is Mount Pleasant rock, 250 feet high and with two acres of flat surface, used by Indians and early settlers as a lookout and defensive fortress. Just west of U. S. 22 is President's Half Acre, a private, walled cemetery, deeded to every U.S. president since 1838 by the will of Nathaniel Wilson, a pioneer settler.

At Lithopolis is Wagnalls Memorial, dedicated to A. K. Wagnalls of publishing fame. The library, which contains rare books and writings and contemporary paintings, is open 1 to 5 daily, 7 to 9 Monday and Wednesday. Organ recitals are held 3 to 5 Sunday, and 7:30 to 9 Friday and Saturday.

Many covered bridges dot this area, and one can be crossed just off Ohio 674 near Canal Winchester. Other stops could include the monument to Civil War General Phil Sheridan at Somerset; Cross Mound Memorial at Tarlton, including the cross effigy and five smaller mounds nearby, and A. W. Marion State Park, which offers camping, boating, fishing and picnicking. The Hocking Hills are just south of U.S. 33 and in early October will be ablaze with fall colors.

The AAA club suggests this routing to the tour area: From Circleville go east on U.S. 22 to the tour area.

Air Officer Pleads Innocent To Columbus Bomb Charges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Air Force 1st Lt. William L. Harris, who police say bombed two suburban department stores as part of a bizarre robbery scheme, pleaded innocent Monday to a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Harris was brought under heavy guard to the Franklin County Municipal Court arraignment from the Lockbourne AFB hospital where he is being treated for a broken ankle suffered during his capture Saturday night.

Judge Bruce Jenkins set bond at $100,000. A preliminary hearing will be scheduled later.

The shooting charge stems from Harris' alleged firing of three shots at a Whitehall policeman who chased him from the Zayre Department Store after a bomb exploded in the center of the sprawling outlet.

Whitehall authorities said they expected to file bombing-connected charges against Harris, 23, after they complete their investigation.

Police said Harris admitted planting bombs that went off Saturday night at Zayre's and a Penney's store nearby, injuring 20 persons. Two victims remain hospitalized in fair condition.

Authorities said Harris told them the locations of three other dynamite charges he had set, and Columbus bomb squadmen managed to disarm them before they exploded.

Police Chief Ralph K. Walker said the bombings apparently were part of a robbery plan, although "robbery sounds asinine as a motive."

He said Harris attempted to rob the Zayre manager, but got no money.

Harris was injured when he was run down by a motorcyclist, Roger Penwell, 23, of Columbus, in the Zayre parking lot.

Following his arraignment Monday, during which his attorney argued unsuccessfully for lower bond, Harris was returned to the Lockbourne hospital, where he is confined under military and civilian guard.

Harris, of Tonkawa, Okla., graduated from Oklahoma State University and entered the Air Force as a second lieutenant. He had an administrative job at Lockbourne, where a spokesman said his record was good.

Fairfield NAACP Plans Freedom Fund Dinner

The First Annual Freedom Fund Dinner sponsored by the Fairfield County NAACP will be held 6:30 p.m. Sept. 12, at the Knights of Columbus, Lancaster.

The guest speaker will be Rev. Phale D. Hale who is serving currently as a member of the State Legislature and pastor of Union Grove Baptist Church, Columbus. Tickets for the Freedom Fund Dinner may now be obtained by telephoning 653-1684 or 654-0674. Wilbur H. Cartlisle is the chairman.

KSU Commencement Scheduled Aug. 29

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Kent State University President Robert I. White will confer about 1,500 degrees, including 500 at the graduate level, at the university's 57th annual summer commencement Aug. 29.

The main speaker will be Dr. Fred F. Harclerod, president of the American College Testing Program and former president of California State College. He also is professor of higher education at the University of Iowa.

The traditional crowning of the festival queen will be held Friday night from the stage in Lion's Park with 20 candidates representing area schools competing for the 1970 honor.

Saturday's activities commence with a noon matinee. The annual festivities will close midnight with a drawing for prizes.

Sweet Corn Festival, Inc. is a member of Ohio Festivals and Events Assn. Renowned for the sweet corn it serves, it is traditionally held before Labor Day marking the end of the many summer festivals throughout the state.

Twister Hits In Missouri During Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thunderstorms crackled over the Midcontinent today and occasionally triggered high winds and heavy rain.

A tornado was reported south of Kirksville, in northeastern Missouri, in the predawn hours. There were no reports of damage.

High wind, heavy rain and large hail slapped the community of Rolla, in northeastern North Dakota, late Monday. More than 1½ inches of rain poured onto Council Bluffs, Iowa.

A thunderstorm at Springfield, Mo., packed wind gusts of 52 miles an hour. A home near the city's airport was struck by lightning and burned.

Hailstones the size of golf balls pounded Maryville, Mo., 75 miles north of Kansas City.

Showers or thunderstorms also extended into Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois. Lighter showers dampened parts of the southern Rockies, the interior of the Southwest and the lower Mississippi Valley.

Motor Merger Set In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — White Consolidated Industries Inc. and White Motor Corp. say they have agreed in principle to merge, a move that would create a company with total assets of $1.2 billion.

A company that size would be the fourth largest in Ohio and among the 60 largest in the nation.

The announcement was made Monday evening by Edward S. Reddig, chairman and chief executive officer of White Consolidated, and Henry J. Nave, president and chief executive of White Motor.

Rhodes, 2 Guard Generals Ask KSU Suit Dismissal

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes and his two top National Guard officers have filed motions here asking that a $6 million wrongful death suit in connection with the May 4 slayings at Kent State University be dismissed or transferred to Columbus.

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court here in June by Arthur Krause of Pittsburgh, whose 19-year-old daughter, Allison, was one of four students shot to death in a confrontation with the Ohio National Guard. The guard was called to the campus to quell demonstrations.

Rhodes' motion and a separate motion by Ohio Adj. Gen. Sylvester T. Del Corso, Ohio Guard commander, and Brig. Gen. Robert H. Canterbury, asked that Krause's suit be dismissed or transferred to the U.S. District Court in Columbus. The motions were filed Monday in the U.S. District Court in Cleveland.

Krause did not point out in his suit that the governor acted in bad faith, Rhodes' motion said, adding that this condition must exist or else the governor is immune from suit.

The generals said that they are immune from prosecution under state law that says they may use necessary force to disperse rioters when legally called upon to do so.

Both motions said the suit really was filed against the state, and that unless the sovereign state gives up its immunity the suit cannot be prosecuted in federal court.

Krause has accused Rhodes and the generals of negligence and his suit contended that they knew the troops sent to the university were not properly trained to handle loaded weapons in the presence of unarmed civilians.

Pat Nixon Saves Loss Of Cufflink

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sharp eye of Mrs. Richard M. Nixon saved the loss of one of a pair of expensive cufflinks she had given the President.

Nixon caught one of the links as it fell from his sleeve Friday while he was shaking hands with an enthusiastic crowd during a visit to New Orleans, but it was feared the other link had been lost.

disclosed Sunday, however, that Mrs. Nixon had spotted the errant link on the floor of the presidential limousine and retrieved it.

She returned the gold and lap is luzuli link to the President later, when they rejoined after separate activities in the Southern city, the family aide said.

Air Officer Pleads Innocent To Columbus Bomb Charges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Air Force 1st Lt. William L. Harris, who police say bombed two suburban department stores as part of a bizarre robbery scheme, pleaded innocent Monday to a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Harris was brought under heavy guard to the Franklin County Municipal Court arraignment from the Lockbourne AFB hospital where he is being treated for a broken ankle suffered during his capture Saturday night.

Judge Bruce Jenkins set bond at $100,000. A preliminary hearing will be scheduled later.

The shooting charge stems from Harris' alleged firing of three shots at a Whitehall policeman who chased him from the Zayre Department Store after a bomb exploded in the center of the sprawling outlet.

Whitehall authorities said they expected to file bombing-connected charges against Harris, 23, after they complete their investigation.

Police said Harris admitted planting bombs that went off Saturday night at Zayre's and a Penney's store nearby, injuring 20 persons. Two victims remain hospitalized in fair condition.

Authorities said Harris told them the locations of three other dynamite charges he had set, and Columbus bomb squadsmen managed to disarm them before they exploded. Police Chief Ralph K. Walker said the bombings apparently were part of a robbery plan, although "robbery sounds asinine as a motive."

He said Harris attempted to rob the Zayre manager, but got no money.

Harris was injured when he was run down by a motorcycle, Roger Penwell, 23, of Columbus, in the Zayre parking lot.

Following his arraignment Monday, during which his attorney argued unsuccessfully for lower bond, Harris was returned to the Lockbourne hospital, where he is confined under military and civilian guard.

Harris, of Tonkawa, Okla., graduated from Oklahoma State University and entered the Air Force as a second lieutenant. He had an administrative job at Lockbourne, where a spokesman said his record was good.

Millersport Hosts Annual Corn Festival

Wednesday, Sept. 2 marks the opening date of the 24th annual Sweet Corn Festival sponsored by the Millersport Lions Club.

Rides and super rides will be available that evening with a Rock Band Contest scheduled to highlight the opening night's events.

The festival will officially open 6 p.m. Sept. 3 with a parade of 20 marching bands, "Miss Sweet Corn Festival" queen candidates, floats and various other marching units.

A variety amateur show at 9 p.m. is open to any person or groups. Young musicians or singing groups who wish to enter the competition for cash prizes should contact Lion Richard Harlow, P. O. Box 506, Millersport or Lion Ed Brookover, phone 467-3943.

The traditional crowning of the festival queen will be held Friday night from the stage in Lion's Park with 20 candidates representing area schools competing for the 1970 honor.

Saturday's activities commence with a noon matinee. The annual festivities will close midnight with a drawing for prizes.

Sweet Corn Festival, Inc. is a member of Ohio Festivals and Events Assn. Renowned for the sweet corn it serves, it is traditionally held before Labor Day marking the end of the many summer festivals throughout the state.

Twister Hits In Missouri During Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thunderstorms crackled over the Midwest today and occasionally triggered high winds and heavy rain.

A tornado was reported south of Kirksville, in northeastern Missouri, in the predawn hours. There were no reports of damage.

High wind, heavy rain and large hail slapped the community of Rolla, in northeastern North Dakota, late Monday. More than 1½ inches of rain poured onto Council Bluffs, Iowa.

A thunderstorm at Springfield, Mo., packed wind gusts of 52 miles an hour. A home near the city's airport was struck by lightning and burned.

Hailstones the size of golf balls pounded Maryville, Mo., 75 miles north of Kansas City.

Showers or thunderstorms also extended into Minnesota, Wisconsin and Illinois. Lighter showers dampened parts of the southern Rockies, the interior of the Southwest and the lower Mississippi Valley.

Motor Merger Set In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — White Consolidated Industries Inc. and White Motor Corp. say they have agreed in principle to merge, a move that would create a company with total assets of $1.2 billion.

A company that size would be the fourth largest in Ohio and among the 60 largest in the nation.

The announcement was made Monday evening by Edward S. Reddig, chairman and chief executive officer of White Consolidated, and Henry J. Nave, president and chief executive of White Motor.

Rhodes, 2 Guard Generals Ask KSU Suit Dismissal

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes and his two top National Guard officers have filed motions here asking that a $6 million wrongful death suit in connection with the May 4 slayings at Kent State University be dismissed or transferred to Columbus.

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court here in June by Arthur Krause of Pittsburgh, whose 19-year-old daughter, Allison, was one of four students shot to death in a confrontation with the Ohio National Guard. The guard was called to the campus to quell demonstrations.

Rhodes' motion and a separate motion by Ohio Adj. Gen. Sylvester T. Del Corso, Ohio Guard commander, and Brig. Gen. Robert H. Canterbury, asked that Krause's suit be dismissed or transferred to the U.S. District Court in Columbus. The motions were filed Monday in the U.S. District Court in Cleveland.

Krause did not point out in his suit that the governor acted in bad faith. Rhodes' motion said, adding that this condition must exist or else the governor is immune from suit.

The generals said that they are immune from prosecution under state law that says they may use necessary force to disperse rioters when legally called upon to do so.

Both motions said the suit really was filed against the state, and that unless the sovereign state gives up its immunity the suit cannot be prosecuted in federal court.

Krause has accused Rhodes and the generals of negligence and his suit contended that they knew the troops sent to the university were not properly trained to handle loaded weapons in the presence of unarmed civilians.

Pat Nixon Saves Loss Of Cufflink

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sharp eye of Mrs. Richard M. Nixon saved the loss of one of a pair of expensive cufflinks she had given the President.

Nixon caught one of the links as it fell from his sleeve Friday while he was shaking hands with an enthusiastic crowd during a visit to New Orleans, but it was feared the other link had been lost.

disclosed Sunday, however, that Mrs. Nixon had spotted the errant link on the floor of the presidential limousine and retrieved it.

She returned the gold and lapel link to the President later, when they rejoined after separate activities in the Southern city, the family aide said.

A Supreme Court justice is, after all, one of the most powerful men in the nation, with heavy responsibilities that should take up most of the time and energy he has for work. And he not only has an excellent salary, $60,000, a year, but it is his for life.

Help For Alcoholics

There is no doubt that alcoholism in the United States takes a terrible toll economically, in human suffering, lost productivity, marital problems and in such far-reaching consequences as auto and industrial accidents.

In auto accidents alone studies indicate 50 per cent of fatal accidents involve drivers who have been drinking. With all that is known about the effects of alcoholism, not nearly enough is known about the causes or cures.

If the proposed National Institute for the Prevention and Control of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism can make a start toward control of alcoholism over the next three years, it will be worth every penny of the $395 million the Senate has approved for its establishment.

Under the bill, now in the House Commerce Committee, all federal programs related to alcoholism would be correlated, and grants would be made to both states and private non-profit organizations for prevention and rehabilitation programs.

This is a worthwhile plan to aid a large number of individuals afflicted by a problem which can be as crippling as any disease.

A PERNICKETY judge in Altoona was also the paying teller of a local bank. One day he refused to cash a check for a sometime depositor, claiming that he wasn't satisfied with said depositor's identification. "Doggone it, Judge," fumed the depositor, "you've sentenced prisoners to be hanged on less evidence than I've given you here." "That's possible," admitted the judge, "but when it comes to hard cash, I don't kid around."

Quaker anecdote: "An elderly friend plowed through a devastating blizzard to a scheduled session at the Old Meeting House. When the hour for gathering had long gone by and not another soul had appeared, he figured he was going to have the meeting all to himself. Just then the latch clicked, however, and an old lady marched up to where he was sitting, tapped him on the shoulder, and observed tartly, 'Friend, there is sitting in my seat!'"

The society section of a Carolina newspaper recently carried a quarter-page photograph of a sweet miss, at her debut, clinging to the arm of her 200-pound aunt. The caption was SUPPOSED to read, "Miss T— looked beautiful on the whole." There was an unfortunate typographical error, however, which made the line come out, "Miss T— looked beautiful on the WHALE."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

We have two cats and four children. I list them in that order because I recently read that there is some possible relationship between leukemia in children and cats. Is there any validity to this or did I dream it all up?

Mrs. G.S.N., Rhode Island
Dear Mrs. N.: The possible relationship between household domesticated animals and leukemia has been under intensive study at a number of hospitals in the United States. This first came into prominence when a group of scientists devised a long, complicated questionnaire about all environmental hazards that might possibly play a role in leukemia.

At the Roswell Clark Memorial Institute in Buffalo, New York, vast statistics have been accumulated that seem to point to some vague relationship between sick cats and some cases of leukemia in children. It must quickly be stated that not all cases of childhood leukemia are traced to sick cats. Further, it must be emphasized that not all children exposed to sick cats will develop this blood condition. All the research workers believe that there is a possible viral infection in sick cats that, in some yet unexplained way, may be one of the causes of some case of childhood leukemia.

At first glance, such a relationship may be terrifying to readers unless they understand that the chance of occurrence is very rare.

Does one attack of quinsy sore throat predispose the person to repeated attacks? Mr. L.K.S., Oregon
Dear Mr. S.: A quinsy sore throat is an abscess that develops around the tonsil, between it and the sheath that surrounds it. When this occurs, the entire area becomes red, angry and swollen and is exceedingly painful.

All abscesses must be emptied of the pus that accumulates. An abscess on the hand or in the throat or anywhere must be drained in order for the tissue to recover.

A quinsy sore throat indicates disease of the tonsil. Unless the tonsils are removed, there is a greater possibility of recurrence of this painful affliction. One attack does not predispose a person to another, but the chances are greater that a second attack will occur if the underlying disease of the tonsils is not removed. Another

The Independent Candidate

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The election patterns for the autumn are taking on a great similarity in Virginia, New York and Connecticut. In all three of these Eastern seaboard states we will see a strong independent Senatorial candidate contesting the field against the traditional Democratic and Republican nominees. In Virginia the independent happens to be ex-Democrat Harry Byrd, a conservative who is favored by the polls to defeat liberal Democrat George Rawlings and liberal Republican Ray Garland. In New York, the Conservative Party's Jim Buckley, who is campaigning as a "Nixon man" against liberal Republican Charles Goodell and liberal Democrat Richard Ottinger, has a chance of winning if the Left splits its vote evenly between the other candidates. And in Connecticut, the incumbent U.S. Senator, Tom Dodd, a former Democrat running this year on his own, has suddenly had a boost because of the way the Republican senatorial primary turned out.

Dodd, though a traditional liberal when it comes to welfare measures, is setting himself up in Connecticut as the strongest pro-Nixon senatorial candidate on U.S. foreign policy. For all practical purposes he is the Jim Buckley (or the Harry Byrd) of his state. He got a lucky break last week when U.S. Representative Lowell Weicker defeated State Senator John Lupton for the Republican U.S. Senatorial nod. Lupton had campaigned as a "Nixon man." Weicker, the Republican organization choice, resented Lupton's attempt to push him into an anti-Nixon corner, but it remains true that Weicker's opinions on foreign affairs have not always gone along with those of the White House.

On such things as the Cooper-Church amendment and Cambodia, Weicker's position hasn't differed very markedly from the position of Connecticut's liberal Democrats. All of this might be neither here nor there if Lupton had not made a surprisingly good showing against Weicker in the primary. Where U.S.

Representative Thomas Meskill, his strength among the "ethnics" of Connecticut who have Captive Nations backgrounds — the Poles, the Czechs, the Hungarians. And he has a solid trade union base in the "Hard hat" section of Connecticut labor. Some of this vote might have gone to John Lupton; it is virtually certain that it will weigh the choice between Dodd and Weicker and the Democratic nominee before making a final decision.

Dodd's main drawbacks are financial. Ironically he is at a disadvantage in trying to raise gift money, whether through testimonial dinners or appeals for donations, because of the censure voted by the U.S. Senate for his use of testimonial money in the past. Dodd claims he has been vindicated on the gift money issue by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, which found no tax irregularities after a long investigation of his finances. Nevertheless, the whole business remains an embarrassment when it comes to asking for money support this time.

Weicker, an attractive man with ingenious ideas, will very probably be the next U.S. Senator from Connecticut. But Dodd can make it an interesting autumn in Connecticut, just as it will be an interesting autumn in New York State and in Virginia.

WASHINGTON MEMO

By Congressman CHALMERS P. WYLIE
15th District of Ohio

Of course, the big news coming out of Congress this week was the veto on Tuesday by the President of the Education Appropriation Bill and the Independent Offices and Department of Housing and Urban Development Appropriations Bill coupled with the subsequent overriding of the President's veto of the Education Bill and the sustaining his veto of the HUD Bill on Thursday.

I voted to sustain the President on both vetoes as I felt this reflected the views of most of the constituents of my district. Additionally, I felt it was the responsible vote. On my recent questionnaire, inflation was listed right alongside crime and violence as the major problems facing this nation. Our mail has consistently indicated a desire on the part of the people I represent to reduce federal spending. In the same questionnaire, 45 per cent voted to maintain federal aid to education at present levels, 35 per cent felt that federal aid to education should be reduced, and 20 per cent felt federal aid to education should be increased.

The President had submitted a budget request of $4.1 billion for education, which was $300 million above the $3.8 billion appropriated for fiscal year 1970 and $972 million above fiscal year 1969, producing a 23 per cent increase in funds for education over President Johnson's budget. Congress added $453 million to this figure. On the Housing and Urban Development Bill, the appropriation for fiscal year 1970 was $16.9 billion. The President submitted a budget request which would increase this amount by $1.1 billion. The Congress again did not think this was enough and added $541 million of its own. Last year the President vetoed the Labor, Health, Education, and Welfare Bill to which Congress added $1.1 billion and the so-called Hill-Burton Bill to which Congress added $325 million with a mandatory spending provision. Added together, these represent almost $2 1/2 billion above the budget request which, in each instance, were above 1969 appropriations.

In order to provide for these increases, the President had ordered a reduction in defense spending. In two years time, almost $18 billion has been cut from the Defense budget, and, for the first time in 50 years, the Defense budget represents less than 50 per cent of the total budget. Unemployment is up although it has not reached the 1961 peak. Part of the reason is, of course, the closing down of defense plants across the country as a result of cuts in the Defense budget. This illustrates the problem faced by the President and Congress considered in light of the fact that $80.6 billion was added to the national debt between 1960 and 1968, a staggering figure by anybody's standards.

Budget overruns create operating deficits and enlarge the national debt. When this happens, inflation grows, the purchasing power of the dollar drops, and the cost of living rises. The impact is upon the taxpayer. The Government has no money of its own. When the Government increases spending, it must raise more money through citizen taxation. No one wants to hurt education or housing. I think the President's vetoes were a courageous and bold effort to curb inflation. I voted to sustain the vetoes because I honestly believe this is the best interest of our overtaxed citizens who pay the bills. Some of the Democrat candidates for Congress has suggested that the President's veto is against children, sick people and the poor. If we do not bring inflation under control, the average American citizen, who pays the bills, will be sick, impoverished and his children will have no schools to attend.

The action on the vetoes took the stage from the Women Rights Bill which passed the House on Monday of this week. The proposed amendment to the Constitution is aimed at eliminating legal inequities between the sexes. Before the amendment is added to the Constitution, it must be passed by the Senate, signed by the President, and ratified by three-fourths of the legislatures of the several states.

I had introduced a bill containing identical language to the bill which passed the House, and so I voted for it.

Dear Editor:
In this day and age of hustle and bustle it is heartening to know that a hospital is so close by to care for our small ones.

Children's Hospital in Columbus has left many local people with the impression of it as being one of the finest around. People just don't realize how important it is until a child of theirs or someone close becomes injured or sick. Ours was such a case last month when our baby boy was in an accident.

I want to take this opportunity to thank all our friends, neighbors and relatives for the kindness and understanding that they showed during his stay in the hospital. Our baby is well on the way to recovery thanks to the many prayers said for him.

The Republicans are way ahead of the Democrats in collecting campaign money. That accounts for the ahs and owes in Washington.

The Republicans are collecting $8 for every $1 the Democrats get. Apparently the Democrats are suffering from some sort of Spiro-chete.

No Agnews would be bad bad news for the Republicans. He suits them to a T-shirt.

The Democratic National Committee wound up 1968 with a $9.3 million debt. Then the Republicans squelched cigarette advertising so the networks would want it paid.

It used to be said that politics makes strange bedfellows. Nowadays the Democrats can't even find a room.

Democratic Treasurer Robert S. Strauss says the fund-raising situation has shown improvement. That means operations are black, like 1968.

People hesitate to shell out to the Democrats because there isn't any candidate in sight. Just a Muskie aroma.

organizations, including the Center for Democratic Studies.

Even those who admire the justice, however, must wonder why he and others on the bench have previously felt it so necessary to get out and hustle a buck by writing magazine articles and books or giving a series of lectures.

A Supreme Court justice is, after all, one of the most powerful men in the nation, with heavy responsibilities that should take up most of the time and energy he has for work. And he not only has an excellent salary, $60,000 a year, but it is his for life.

Help For Alcoholics

There is no doubt that alcoholism in the United States takes a terrible toll economically, in human suffering, lost productivity, marital problems and in such far-reaching consequences as auto and industrial accidents.

In auto accidents alone studies indicate 50 per cent of fatal accidents involve drivers who have been drinking. With all that is known about the effects of alcoholism, not nearly enough is known about the causes or cures.

If the proposed National Institute for the Prevention and Control of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism can make a start toward control of alcoholism over the next three years, it will be worth every penny of the $395 million the Senate has approved for its establishment.

Under the bill, now in the House Commerce Committee, all federal programs related to alcoholism would be correlated, and grants would be made to both states and private non-profit organizations for prevention and rehabilitation programs.

This is a worthwhile plan to aid a large number of individuals afflicted by a problem which can be as crippling as any disease.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Success adds years to your life as well as to your years. A study of prominent men over 45 listed in "Who's Who in America" showed they had a mortality rate only 70 per cent that of the white male population as a whole.

Why our air is polluted: Every car on the road each year pours out of its exhaust between one quarter and one half ton of carbon monoxide and hydrocarbons.

A baby is regarded as immature if it weighs 5 pounds, 8 ounces or less at birth. About 8 out of every 100 infants fall in this category.

Speaking of itty-bitty things, a polio virus is so small that 25 million of them can fit on the head of a pin.

One of the reasons life is more comfortable in this country than in Russia is that 60 per cent of U.S. workers are engaged in service occupations compared with only 30 per cent in the U.S.S.R. Only 5 per cent of the U.S. labor force is required to provide food for the nation. In Russia the figure is 27 per cent.

Know your language: During the 17th century the Pinmakers Guild of London was forced to pay $2,500 a year to King Charles I, who turned the money over to his queen. Thus was created the expression "pin money." How much do you give your wife?

Quotable notables: "Nature gives you the face you have at 20; it is up to you to merit the face you have at 50."—Gabrielle "Coco" Chanel, French designer.

Keep on the go: evidence is accumulating to prove the thesis that the active life is the healthier one. A study of 3,000 longshoremen over a 16-year period found that those with comparatively sedentary jobs had a death rate from heart attacks one third higher than those who moved cargo.

In need of help: About 24 million Americans are classified as handicapped. They include 18 million who are physically disabled and almost 6 million who are mentally retarded.

Worth remembering: "Whenever you're getting kicked from the rear, remember that it means only one thing—you're in front!"

It was Henry David Thoreau who observed, "It is only by forgetting yourself that you draw near to God."

The Republicans are way ahead of the Democrats in collecting campaign money. That accounts for the ahs and ows in Washington.

The Republicans are collecting $8 for every $1 the Democrats get. Apparently the Democrats are suffering from some sort of Spiro-chete.

No Agnews would be bad bad news for the Republicans. He suits them to a T-shirt.

The Democratic National Committee wound up 1968 with a $9.3 million debt. Then the Republicans squelched cigarette advertising so the networks would want it paid.

It used to be said that politics makes strange bedfellows. Nowadays the Democrats can't even find a room.

Democratic Treasurer Robert S. Strauss says the fund-raising situation has shown improvement. That means operations are black, like 1968.

People hesitate to shell out to the Democrats because there isn't any candidate in sight. Just a Muskies aroma.

A PERNICKETY judge in Altoona was also the paying teller of a local bank. One day he refused to cash a check for a sometime depositor, claiming that he wasn't satisfied with said depositor's identification. "Doggone it, Judge," fumed the depositor, "you've sentenced prisoners to be hanged on less evidence than I've given you here." "That's possible," admitted the judge, "but when it comes to hard cash, I don't kid around."

Quaker anecdote: "An elderly friend plowed through a devastating blizzard to a scheduled session at the Old Meeting House. When the hour for gathering had long gone by and not another soul had appeared, he figured he was going to have the meeting all to himself. Just then the latch clicked, however, and an old lady marched up to where he was sitting, tapped him on the shoulder, and observed tartly, 'Friend, thee is sitting in my seat!'"

The society section of a Carolina newspaper recently carried a quarter-page photograph of a sweet miss, at her debut, clinging to the arm of her 200-pound aunt. The caption was SUPPOSED to read, "Miss T — looked beautiful on the whole." There was an unfortunate typographical error, however, which made the line come out, "Miss T — looked beautiful on the WHALE."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

We have two cats and four children. I list them in that order because I recently read that there is some possible relationship between leukemia in children and cats. Is there any validity to this or did I dream it all up?

Mrs. G.S.N., Rhode Island
Dear Mrs. N.: The possible relationship between household domesticated animals and leukemia has been under intensive study at a number of hospitals in the United States. This first came into prominence when a group of scientists devised a long, complicated questionnaire about all environmental hazards that might possibly play a role in leukemia.

At the Roswell Clark Memorial Institute in Buffalo, New York, vast statistics have been accumulated that seem to point to some vague relationship between sick cats and some cases of leukemia in children.

It must quickly be stated that not all cases of childhood leukemia are traced to sick cats. Further, it must be emphasized that not all children exposed to sick cats will develop this blood condition. All the research workers believe that there is a possible viral infection in sick cats that, in some yet unexplained way, may be one of the causes of some cases of childhood leukemia.

At first glance, such a relationship may be terrifying to readers unless they understand that the chance of occurrence is very rare.

Does one attack of quinsy sore throat predispose a person to repeated attacks?

Dear Mr. S.: A quinsy sore throat is an abscess that develops around the tonsil, between it and the sheath that surrounds it. When this occurs, the entire area becomes red, angry and swollen and is exceedingly painful.

All abscesses must be emptied of the pus that accumulates. An abscess on the hand or in the throat or anywhere must be drained in order for the tissue to recover.

name for quinsy sore throat is peritonsillar abscess. Consult your physician and do not wait for another one to occur.

Wear a copper bracelet if you think it is attractive but see your doctor for the arthritis while its "magic" is working.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Tuesday, Aug. 18, the 230th day of 1970. There are 135 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1587, Virginia Dare was born at Roanoke Island, N.C. She was the first child born in America of English parents.

On this date: In 1743, the Peace of Abo was signed, with Sweden ceding part of Finland to Russia.

In 1908, Persia sent its first diplomatic representative to Greece in more than 2,000 years.

In 1914, President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed American neutrality in World War I. Also in 1914, a Peruvian destroyer became the first warship to pass through the Panama Canal.

In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill held a wartime conference in Quebec.

In 1963, James H. Meredith became the first Negro to win a degree from the University of Mississippi.

Ten years ago: The U.S. Senate passed a bill to set minimum wages at $1.25 an hour. Five years ago: President Lyndon B. Johnson declared portions of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware disaster areas because of drought.

One year ago: President Richard M. Nixon nominated Federal Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of South Carolina to fill a U.S. Supreme Court vacancy.

In the mid-19th century, the Maharaja of Gwalior (a state now part of modern India) built a palace with a solid-gold roof, tested for strength by elephants. Within were the largest red chandelier and the most elaborate model train setup in the world. The palace now is a public museum.

The Independent Candidate

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The election patterns for the autumn are taking on a great similarity in Virginia, New York and Connecticut. In all three of these Eastern seaboard states we will see a strong independent Senatorial candidate contesting the field against the traditional Democratic and Republican nominees. In Virginia the independent happens to be ex-Democrat Harry Byrd, a conservative who is favored by the polls to defeat liberal Democrat George Rawlings and liberal Republican Ray Garland. In New York, the Conservative Party's Jim Buckley, who is campaigning as a "Nixon man" against liberal Republican Charles Goodell and liberal Democrat Richard Ottinger, has a chance of winning if the Left splits its vote evenly between the other candidates. And in Connecticut, the incumbent U.S. Senator, Tom Dodd, a former Democrat running this year on his own, has suddenly had a boost because of the way the Republican senatorial primary turned out.

Dodd, though a traditional liberal when it comes to welfare measures, is setting himself up in Connecticut as the strongest pro-Nixon senatorial candidate on U.S. foreign policy. For all practical purposes he is the Jim Buckley (or the Harry Byrd) of his state. He got a lucky break last week when U.S. Representative Lowell Weicker defeated State Senator John Lupton for the Republican U.S. Senatorial nod. Lupton had campaigned as a "Nixon man." Weicker, the Republican organization choice, resented Lupton's attempt to push him into an anti-Nixon corner, but it remains true that Weicker's opinions on foreign affairs have not always gone along with those of the White House.

On such things as the Cooper-Church amendment and Cambodia, Weicker's position hasn't differed very markedly from the position of Connecticut's liberal Democrats. All of this might be neither here nor there if Lupton had not made a surprisingly good showing against Weicker in the primary. Where U.S.

Representative Thomas Meskill, his strength among the "ethnics" of Connecticut who have Captive Nations backgrounds — the Poles, the Czechs, the Hungarians, and he has a solid trade union base in the "hard hat" section of Connecticut labor. Some of this vote might have gone to John Lupton; it is virtually certain that it will weigh the choice between Dodd and Weicker and the Democratic nominee before making a final decision.

Dodd's main drawbacks are financial. Ironically he is at a disadvantage in trying to raise gift money, whether through testimonial dinners or appeals for donations, because of the censure voted by the U.S. Senate for his use of testimonial money in the past. Dodd claims he has been vindicated on the gift money issue by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, which found no tax irregularities after a long investigation of his finances. Nevertheless, the whole business remains an embarrassment when it comes to asking for money support this time.

Weicker, an attractive man with ingenious ideas, will very probably be the next U.S. Senator from Connecticut. But Dodd can make it an interesting autumn in Connecticut, just as it will be an interesting autumn in New York State and in Virginia.

WASHINGTON MEMO

By Congressman
CHALMERS P. WYLIE
15th District of Ohio

Of course, the big news coming out of Congress this week was the veto on Tuesday by the President of the Education Appropriation Bill and the Independent Offices and Department of Housing and Urban Development Appropriations Bill coupled with the subsequent overriding of the President's veto of the Education Bill and the sustaining his veto of the HUD Bill on Thursday.

I voted to sustain the President on both vetoes as I felt this reflected the views of most of the constituents of my district. Additionally, I felt it was the responsible vote. On my recent questionnaire, inflation was listed right alongside crime and violence as the major problems facing this nation. Our mail has consistently indicated a desire on the part of the people I represent to reduce federal spending. In the same questionnaire, 45 per cent voted to maintain federal aid to education at present levels, 35 per cent felt that federal aid to education should be reduced, and 20 per cent felt federal aid to education should be increased.

The President had submitted a budget request of $4.1 billion for education, which was $300 million above the $3.8 billion appropriated for fiscal year 1970 and $972 million above fiscal year 1969, producing a 23 per cent increase in funds for education over President Johnson's budget. Congress added $453 million to this figure. On the Housing and Urban Development Bill, the appropriation for fiscal year 1970 was $16.9 billion. The President submitted a budget request which would increase this amount by $1.1 billion. The Congress again did not think this was enough and added $541 million of its own. Last year the President vetoed the Labor-Health, Education, and Welfare Bill to which Congress added $1.1 billion and the so-called Hill-Burton Bill to which Congress added $325 million with a mandatory spending provision. Added together, these represent almost $2 1/2 billion above the budget request which, in each instance, were above 1969 appropriations.

In order to provide for these increases, the President had ordered a reduction in defense spending. In two years time, almost $18 billion has been cut from the Defense budget, and for the first time in 50 years, the Defense budget represents less than 50 per cent of the total budget. Unemployment is up although it has not reached the 1961 peak. Part of the reason is, of course, the closing down of defense plants across the country as a result of cuts in the Defense budget. This illustrates the problem faced by the President and Congress considered in light of the fact that $60.6 billion was added to the national debt between 1960 and 1968, a staggering figure by anybody's standards.

Budget overruns create operating deficits and enlarge the national debt. When this happens, inflation grows, the purchasing power of the dollar drops, and the cost of living rises. The impact is upon the taxpayer. The Government has no money of its own. When the Government increases spending, it must raise more money through citizen taxation. No one wants to hurt education or housing. I think the President's vetoes were a courageous and bold effort to curb inflation. I voted to sustain the vetoes because I honestly believe this is the best interest of our overtaxed citizens who pay the bills. Some of the Democrat candidates for Congress have suggested that the President's veto is against children, sick people and the poor. If we do not bring inflation under control, the average American citizen, who pays the bills, will be sick, impoverished and his children will have no schools to attend.

The action on the vetoes took the stage from the Women Rights Bill which passed the House on Monday of this week. The proposed amendment to the Constitution is aimed at eliminating legal inequities between the sexes. Before the amendment is added to the Constitution, it must be passed by the Senate, signed by the President, and ratified by three-fourths of the legislatures of the several states.

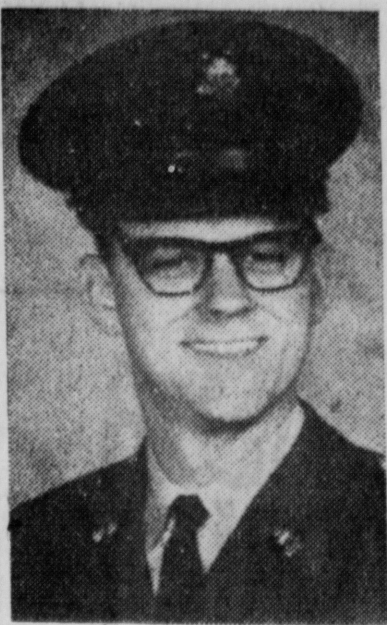

I had introduced a bill containing identical language to the bill which passed the House, and so I voted for it.

Nixon Wants Newspapers To Publicize Integration

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has asked news executives in the South to emphasize successful school integration efforts this fall.

At his first regional briefing session on government policy, Nixon told executives he recognized the media's "responsibility to report the news whether it is good or bad."

"But I know of no time in our nation's history when the country needs to hear of those many, many successes where men and women of good will worked out the problem rather than hearing only of those few instances that might be failures," he said.

Nixon made the remark in New Orleans as he added a new tacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms.

Interspersed with the constant emphasis on proper physical conditioning, diet, rest and health habits, will be ample opportunity to utilize many and varied recreational and religious facilities.

Following the completion of Basic Training, PVT McClure who is the husband of Mrs. Rita Ann McClure, Williamsport, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

Charles E. Fullen, son of Wallace E. Fullen, Clarksburg, and Mrs. Bonnie Salyers, Williamsport, is serving in Vietnam. A veteran of over two years in the army, he recently completed a year's duty in Germany. He is a 1967 graduate of Westfall High School. His new service address is:

Defoliant In Cambodia Draws Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Richard Ottinger, D-N.Y., says the Air Force had sprayed Cambodian rubber plantations in April 1969 with agent orange, a defoliant which he says is believed to deform unborn children.

Ottinger said Sunday that he and Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., were told of the incident by an unidentified Air Force source, and that they would seek an explanation from the Pentagon.

In Washington, a Defense Department spokesman referred queries to a 1969 State Department report that said no American aircraft were involved in defoliation in Cambodia. In Saigon, a U.S. Command spokesman said, "No such mission was ever flown by the Air Force."

The spokesman later rephrased his reply however. "We have no reports that U.S. Air Force aircraft flew defoliation missions over Cambodian rubber plantations in April 1969," he said.

Appearing on WNBC-TV's "Searchlight," Ottinger said he and Nelson "were recently informed that the Air Force in April of 1969 sprayed the Cambodian rubber plantations with one of the most fearful and noxious defoliants ever known to man.

"It is called agent orange and it contains 245T and 24D, which are known agents that deform fetuses and that's inexcusable."

Nixon Wants Newspapers To Publicize Integration

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has asked news executives in the South to emphasize successful school integration efforts this fall.

At his first regional briefing session on government policy, Nixon told executives he recognized the media's "responsibility to report the news whether it is good or bad."

"But I know of no time in our nation's history when the country needs to hear of those many, many successes where men and women of good will worked out the problem rather than hearing only of those few instances that might be failures," he said.

Nixon made the remark in New Orleans as he added a new

tacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms.

Interspersed with the constant emphasis on proper physical conditioning, diet, rest and health habits, will be ample opportunity to utilize many and varied recreational and religious facilities.

Following the completion of Basic Training, PVT McClure who is the husband of Mrs. Rita Ann McClure, Williamsport, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

Charles E. Fullen, son of Wallace E. Fullen, Clarkburg, and Mrs. Bonnie Salyers, Williamsport, is serving in Vietnam. A veteran of over two years in the army, he recently completed a year's duty in Germany. He is a 1967 graduate of Westfall High School. His new service address is:

feature to the White House roadshow—news briefing on government policy for regional publishing and broadcasting executives.

The roadshow is designed to bring the White House to the people.

Nixon personally is taking part in briefing the news media. Aides said the next session will be in the West when Nixon returns to San Clemente, Calif., later this month. A midwestern meeting will be held in Chicago sometime after Sept. 1.

In meeting Friday with some 60 specially picked southern and border states news executives at the Royal Orleans Hotel, the President let them know he reads their editorials and knows some of the strong opinions they express.

Let's they think he is influenced mainly by Washington and Eastern newspapers, it was pointed out the President has a news briefing system in which his White House staff culls items from 34 newspapers across the country.

They provide Nixon with a daily news and television summary of events and commentary.

High level background briefings for the media, where spokesmen are not quoted, have been a frequent occurrence in Washington. Now, Nixon is seeking to extend this format around the country.

The first briefing was held in Los Angeles last month while Nixon was at the Western White House for a group of national newsmen selected from all sections of the country.

The New Orleans news background was the first of a series of briefings for regional news media representatives. The sessions are to give news executives insight into administration thinking on foreign policy that may be helpful in formulating their editorial comments and policies, aides said.

Advisors also pointed out the sessions would give White House aides an idea of what interests the news media executives, what's puzzling them or needs further explanation.

Defoliant In Cambodia Draws Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Richard Ottinger, D-N.Y., says the Air Force had sprayed Cambodian rubber plantations in April 1969 with agent orange, a defoliant which he says is believed to deform unborn children.

Ottinger said Sunday that he and Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., were told of the incident by an unidentified Air Force source, and that they would seek an explanation from the Pentagon.

In Washington, a Defense Department spokesman referred queries to a 1969 State Department report that said no American aircraft were involved in defoliation in Cambodia. In Saigon, a U.S. Command spokesman said, "No such mission was ever flown by the Air Force."

The spokesman later rephrased his reply however. "We have no reports that U.S. Air Force aircraft flew defoliation missions over Cambodian rubber plantations in April 1969," he said.

Appearing on WNBC-TV's "Searchlight," Ottinger said he and Nelson "were recently informed that the Air Force in April of 1969 sprayed the Cambodian rubber plantations with one of the most fearful and noxious defoliants ever known to man.

"It is called agent orange and it contains 245T and 24D, which are known agents that deform fetuses and that's inexcusable."

Salem WSCS Schedules Late Summer Projects

Women's Society of Christian Service of Salem United Methodist Church met recently at the church with Mrs. Charles Boldoser Jr. and Mrs. Charles Boldoser Sr. as hostesses.

Mrs. Donald Hildenbrand, vice president, opened the devotions by requesting that each member answer roll call by telling what time they arose from bed that morning. Sixteen members and one guest, Lydia Boldoser, were present. A review of the year's program was given. The group repeated the 23rd Psalm in unison, followed by "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Betty Boldoser gave a report of "The National Observer Sees Pollution As the Leading Political Issue Of The 1970's." Mrs. Ira Barr sang "How Great Thou Art."

Mrs. Hildenbrand read "Jesus' Love For Rural Folks." Mrs. Mary Wilhelm read "Our Savior" and Mrs. Donald Adams read "The Christian Task." Responsive reading was conducted. Mrs. Delbert Poling sang "The Old Country Church" and Mrs. Donald Minor read "A Tribute To A Farmer." Devotions were closed with the benediction.

Mrs. Fairy Alkire conducted the business session. She appointed new chairmen of committees. They are: missionary secretary, Mrs. Minor; news reporter, Mrs. Jacob Maxwell, and flowers and cards, Mrs. Wilbur Pontious. Mrs. Wilhelm won the flower fund gift. It was reported that 37 sick calls had been made.

It was agreed by members to have a booth at the Farmer's Market in Circleville, Sept. 12 and a rummage sale on Sept. 19.

Games were conducted by Mrs. Gene Kerns followed with refreshments served by the hostesses.

Inspection Of Buses Stepped Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing recent accidents which resulted in several deaths and scores of injuries, Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe says the government has stepped up its inspections of interstate buses.

His announcement Monday said the program would involve at least 5,000 buses in the next 60 days, with special emphasis on charters.

Early results show many buses already ordered to garages for repairs, he said.

The inspection drive is being concentrated at national and historic points of interest, since the tourist season is in full swing.

"This effort is designed to assure that buses in unsafe conditions are taken off the highways until all necessary repairs are made," Volpe said.

A charter bus Monday plunged down a mountainside at Hillsville, Va., killing one occupant and injuring 41. A group of young Chicago-area drum and bugle corps members were aboard.

Volpe pointed to another recent crash at New Smithville, Pa., in which seven children were killed and 39 others injured.

Carri Maughmer Honored With Birthday Party

Carri Maughmer was honored recently on her 6th birthday with a party at Hargus Lake. Late summer flowers centered the table where refreshments were served in keeping with the theme.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Denver Mounts, Mrs. Marcella Maughmer and Chrissi. Sending gifts were Mr. and Mrs. James Hicks, aunt and uncle of Carri.

MISHAP VICTIM — Mme. Jacques Chaban - Delmas, wife of the French premier, was killed in an auto accident near the resort town of Saint-Jean-de-Luz in southwestern France. She was riding with one of her children in her auto driven by her chauffeur.

Fatal Crash Brings Suit

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A $1.6 million suit against the Federal Aviation Administration in connection with a 1968 airplane crash that killed seven persons has been filed in U.S. District Court here.

The suit, filed Monday, charged that air traffic controllers at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport gave the wrong altitude to the pilot of a disabled aircraft, resulting in the crash.

The plane, piloted by Christopher Cordaro of Avenel, N.J.,

crashed into a densely populated area northeast of the airport, barely missing a row of houses. Cordaro's wife, their daughter and four friends were killed.

The suit, filed on behalf of the estates of the three Cordaro family members, charged the government with negligence in causing the deaths.

The plane, a twin-engine Beech Kingair, had lost one engine.

Inspection Of Buses Stepped Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citing recent accidents which resulted in several deaths and scores of injuries, Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe says the government has stepped up its inspections of interstate buses.

His announcement Monday said the program would involve at least 5,000 buses in the next 60 days, with special emphasis on charters.

Early results show many buses already ordered to garages for repairs, he said.

The inspection drive is being concentrated at national and historic points of interest, since the tourist season is in full swing.

"This effort is designed to assure that buses in unsafe conditions are taken off the highways until all necessary repairs are made," Volpe said.

A charter bus Monday plunged down a mountainside at Hillsville, Va., killing one occupant and injuring 41. A group of young Chicago-area drum and bugle corps members were aboard.

Volpe pointed to another recent crash at New Smithville, Pa., in which seven children were killed and 39 others injured.

Fatal Crash Brings Suit

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A $1.6 million suit against the Federal Aviation Administration in connection with a 1968 airplane crash that killed seven persons has been filed in U.S. District Court here.

The suit, filed Monday, charged that air traffic controllers at Cleveland Hopkins International Airport gave the wrong altitude to the pilot of a disabled aircraft, resulting in the crash.

The plane, piloted by Christopher Cordaro of Avenel, N.J.,

crashed into a densely populated area northeast of the airport, barely missing a row of houses. Cordaro's wife, their daughter and four friends were killed.

The suit, filed on behalf of the estates of the three Cordaro family members, charged the government with negligence in causing the deaths.

The plane, a twin-engine Beech Kingair, had lost one engine.

(b) "Basement" means the lowest level of a building where the floor level is more than three feet below the adjoining finished grade.

(c) "Building" means a structure which is permanently affixed to the land, having one or more floors and a roof, being bounded by either one or more walls, and containing one or more rooms for persons, animals, or chattel property. The term shall be used synonymously with "structure" unless otherwise noted, and shall be construed as including the words "part or portion of".

(d) "Building Line" means a line established by this Zoning Code, which is generally parallel to and measured from the front lot line, defining the minimum distance between the front of the building and the lot located above ground except as may be provided in said Code.

(e) "Detached Building" means a building surrounded by open space.

(f) "Enclosed Building" means a building which is not attached to any other than a main wall and containing secondary windows required for ventilation and not intended to provide a direct view.

(g) "Group Development" means a development of more than one multifamily building or building planned as a unit, and coordinated with the surrounding neighborhood.

(h) "Height of Building" means the vertical distance measured from the principal entrance to the highest point of the coping of a flat roof, or to the deck line of a mansard roof, or to the mean height level between the eaves and the ridge of a mansard roof.

(i) "Land or Lot Coverage" means that percentage of a lot covered by the main and accessory buildings.

(j) "Main Building" means the building occupied by the main or principal use or activity or intended for their occupancy. All parts of said building are to be connected in a substantial manner by common walls and a continuous roof.

(k) "Main Wall" means the vertical wall of a building containing the principal windows of a living, dining and/or sleeping room or rooms.

(l) "Nonconforming Building" means a building existing lawfully at the time of the adoption of this Code which does not conform to the requirements of this Code but which does not conform to the area, height, or bulk of building, yard or other regulations of the district in which it is located.

(m) "Open Space" means a vacant lot, yard, or other open space, the walls of which are directly opposite when two buildings, parallel or within 20 degrees of being parallel, face each other across an open yard or court.

(n) "Partial Development" means a development of more than one multifamily building on one lot coordinated with the surrounding neighborhood and fronting on a public street.

(o) "Part" means that portion of a building other than a basement.

(p) "Planned Development" means any floor area of the surface of the floor next above it or, if there is no floor above it, then the space between the floor and the ceiling next above it. A basement shall be counted as part of the floor area if the volume of the basement is not more than one-third of the average level of the adjacent ground.

(q) "Structure" means that which is constructed on or under the ground surface of a lot, including, but not limited to, buildings, fences, walls, barriers, bridges, bulkheads, chimneys, fences, garages, outdoor seating facilities, parking areas, platforms, pools, poles, street, tanks, tents, trailers and other vehicles when on wheels.

(r) "Structural Alterations" means any changes in the supporting members of a building such as bearing walls, columns, beams, or girders.

(s) "Swimming Pool" means any pool, lake or open tank with an area exceeding 100 square feet which is designed to contain water at a depth of more than six inches and which is not a part of a building, ponds or pools located within completely enclosed building. A "private swimming pool" is an accessory use which is owned by a person while the "public swimming pool" is a use which may be owned by a person or an accessory use which is owned by a municipality, association of property owners or by a private club.

(t) "Use" means the purpose for which a building or land is used.

(u) "Area of Lot" means the total horizontal area within the lot boundary lines of a zone lot.

(v) "Corner Lot" means a lot abutting on two streets at their intersection. The interior angle of intersection is not more than 135 degrees.

(w) "Front Lot Line" means the lot line separating an interior lot from the street upon which the side lot line intersects. The street line to which such lot abuts upon a street. Unless the context clearly indicates the contrary, it shall be construed as synonymous with the street line.

(x) "Lot Frontage" means the lot line which is shorter than a corner lot or through lot with only one frontage on a street.

(y) "Lot Intended" means a parcel of land intended for transfer of ownership or for building development. For purposes of this Code, a Lot is synonymous with "Zone Lot".

(z) "Lot Frontage" pertains to the front of a lot which shall be construed to be the portion nearest the street. For the purposes of determining the frontage of a lot, the lot line which is shorter than a corner lot or adjacent to streets shall be considered frontage, and yards shall be provided as indicated under Yards in this section.

(aa) "Side Lot Line" means the lot line separating the side lot from the rear lot. The side lot line shall be the horizontal ground floor area of all buildings to the horizontally projected area of the lot, expressed as a percentage.

(ab) "Lot Line" means the boundary of lot separating it from adjoining lots, public common or private land, including public street.

(ac) "Lot Measurements" shall be as follows:

—The depth of a lot shall be considered to be the distance between the side lot lines at the rear and the side lot lines at the front of the lot.

—The width of a lot shall be considered to be the distance between the straight lines connecting front and rear lot lines at each side of the lot, measured across the rear of the required front yard, provided that the width of the lot is not less than the width of the lot to which they intersect with the street line shall not be less than 80 percent of the required lot width except in case of lots on the turning circle of cul-de-sacs, where the 80 percent requirement shall not apply.

(ad) "Recorded" means a subdivision or plat of a lot or parcel recorded in the office of the county recorder, or a lot or parcel described by metes and bounds, the description of which has been so recorded.

(ae) "Right-of-Way" means the right of the public to use a street exclusively of any portion of the right-of-way of any public thoroughfare.

(af) "Nonconforming Lot" means a lot which was existing lawfully at the time of the adoption of this Code and which does not conform to the requirements of the district in which it is located.

(ag) "Parcel" means a unit of land under single ownership officially designated as a lot.

(ah) "Rear Lot Line" means a lot line parallel to or within 45 degrees of being parallel to the front lot line.

(ai) "Side Lot Line" means a lot line which is neither a front nor rear lot line.

(aj) "Through Lot" means a lot other than a corner lot with frontage on more than one street. Through lots abutting two streets may be used as a lot.

(ak) "Zoned Lot" means a parcel of land abutting a dedicated street which is occupied or intended to be occupied by a main and/or accessory use in a main accessory building, as a unit together with such open space as is required by this Code. The term "lot" as used in this Code, the contrary, the term lot is used synonymously with zoned lot in this Zoning Code and it may or may not coincide with lot of record.

(al) "Community Facilities Plan" means the plan which shows the location and extent of existing, and planned parks, playgrounds, public buildings, and other facilities, and the location and extent of existing, and planned streets for the City of Circleville, Ohio, duly adopted and officially accepted, separately or as a part of the Comprehensive Development Plan.

(b) R-2 One-Family Residence District. This district provides land for primarily residential development at a density of between two and three dwelling units per gross acre, included in this district is land which is currently developed within this density range and/or is considered appropriate for this density. Off-site water and sewage facilities are required.

(c) R-3 Single-Family Residence District. This district provides land for primarily residential development at densities of between three and four dwelling units per gross acre, included in this district is land which is currently developed within this density range and/or is considered appropriate for this density. Off-site water and sewage facilities are required.

(d) R-4 One and Two-Family Residence District. This district provides land for primarily residential development at a density of between four and six dwelling units per gross acre. Land which appears to be appropriate for a mixture of one and two family dwellings is included. Off-site water and sewage facilities are required.

(e) AR-1 Multiple-Family Residence District. This district provides land for primarily residential development at densities of between six and twelve dwelling units per gross acre. Apartments and townhouses are permitted in this district in addition to one and two family residences. Off-site water and sewage is required.

(f) AR-2 Multiple-Family Residence District. This district provides land for primarily residential development at densities of between 12 and 15 dwelling units per gross acre. Apartments and townhouses are permitted in this district in addition to one and two family residences. Off-site water and sewage is required.

AR-2 districts are permitted close to the Central Business District and close to the RD and LI Districts. Land which is used for the purpose of creating housing and for the promotion of public welfare is not adversely affected by high dwelling unit densities or by proximity to primarily non-residential districts. Convenient access to major thoroughfares, schools and other public facilities is required.

(g) MHP Mobile Home Park District. This district provides suitable land for the development of independent mobile homes. This district permits mobile homes to be located where the density, character and amenities and character of the mobile homes will not be out of harmony with surrounding districts. Required are off-site water and sewage facilities and convenient access to major thoroughfares and public facilities.

103.03 Commercial, Office and Residence Districts: A diverse mix of residential, offices and commercial uses are permitted in these districts where this blend is appropriate to an existing or planned urban environment without having an adverse effect on the area.

(a) AHO Apartment, Residential and Office District. This district permits one to three dwelling units per gross acre in addition to office and six and 12 dwelling units per gross acre in addition to office or townhouses. Off-site water and sewage facilities are required.

(b) AR-2 Multiple-Family Residence District. This district permits one, two and multi-family residential units at densities of from six to 15 dwelling units per gross acre in addition to office and commercial occupancies. Off site water and sewage facilities are required.

103.04 Commercial and Office Districts: The commercial and office districts are established to provide a variety of commercial and office uses, including retail and services. Sufficient land for expansion loading and parking are provided. Community supplied water and sewage facilities are required. Residential and industrial land uses are not permitted.

(a) LB Local Business District. This district provides land for small industrial retail establishments, including convenience goods and personal services. These uses are permitted in this district in addition to nearby residential areas and do not attract large volumes of traffic.

(b) CBD Central Business District. This district provides for a broad range of commercial and office uses, including retail, services, and offices.

(c) GB General Business District. This district provides land for a wide variety of business establishments. Because these districts serve shopping centers, large parking areas are required. On-street parking spaces must have ample off-street parking facilities. This category includes retail centers.

103.05 Industrial Districts: The industrial districts provide suitable land for a wide variety of industrial activities, including processing, storage, and research and testing. Convenient access to major thoroughfares, rail and air transportation facilities, and the availability of public utilities are required. Land uses which are incompatible with industrial land uses are not permitted. Adequate on-site parking facilities shall be provided.

(a) RD Research and Development District. This district provides land for industrial uses where users are primarily engaged in research and development. These uses are permitted in this district in addition to other types of industrial uses. Land uses which are likely to have a detrimental effect on the surrounding area by generating unacceptable levels of traffic, light, noise, vibrations, and/or air pollution, or having the potential for a hazardous release are not permitted.

(b) LI Light Industry District. This district provides land for industrial occupancies which are capable of meeting the standards for noise, vibration, and air pollution. Land uses which are likely to have a detrimental effect, as specified by the performance standards in Section 205.01.

(c) HI Heavy Industry District. This district provides land for industrial occupancies which are capable of meeting the standards for noise, vibrations, air pollution, light, traffic generated and fire and explosion protection as specified by the performance standards in Section 305.01.

Section 104.00 Purpose of Zoning Districts and Regulations.

104.01 Open Area Districts. Open Area Districts and their regulations are established herein to satisfy the following primary purposes:

(a) to provide land for agricultural uses where conditions of topography and soil are suitable for the production of crops and other agricultural uses;

(b) to provide land for parks and other recreational uses;

104.02 Residential Districts. Residential districts and their regulations are established herein in order to achieve the following primary purposes:

(a) to regulate the bulk and location of buildings in relation to the land in order to obtain proper light, air, privacy and usable open spaces;

(b) to regulate the density and distribution of population in accordance with the objectives of the Comprehensive Development Plan in order to provide for a desirable pattern of growth;

(c) to provide protection from noxious fumes, odors, dust, excessive noises, invasion of abnormal vehicular traffic and other objectionable conditions;

(d) to protect the desirable characteristics of existing residential development through the promotion of the most desirable and beneficial uses of the land and to protect the safety and health of the community;

104.03 Commercial, Office and Residence Districts. Districts are established which permit the mixing of commercial, office and residential uses in order to achieve the following primary purposes:

(a) to provide for a variety of land uses in accordance with the Comprehensive Development Plan;

(b) to provide for a variety of land uses in accordance with the Comprehensive Development Plan;

104.04 Commercial, Office and Residence Districts. Districts are established which permit the mixing of commercial, office and residential uses in order to achieve the following primary purposes:

(a) to provide zoning districts of sufficient size for the provision of goods and services to the community;

(b) to protect adjacent residential neighborhoods by regulating the types and spacing of business uses, particularly at the common boundaries which would create hazards, noise, odors, or other objectionable influences;

(c) to promote the most desirable land use and traffic patterns in accordance with the objectives of the Comprehensive Development Plan;

104.05 Industrial Districts. Industrial Districts and their regulations are established herein in order to achieve the following primary purposes:

(a) to provide for a variety of land uses in accordance with the Comprehensive Development Plan;

(b) to provide for a variety of land uses in accordance with the Comprehensive Development Plan;

(c) to provide for a variety of land uses in accordance with the Comprehensive Development Plan;

104.06 Establishment of Regulations. Any building or parcel of land may be used, the use of any building and any parcel of land may be enlarged, reconstructed, moved or maintained only for the use, specifically enumerated or referred to as permitted or required in the district in which it is located. The use of any building or parcel of land for a use not specifically enumerated or referred to as permitted or required in the district shall be considered a violation of the ordinance. The enumeration of uses within a district shall not be construed as a ranking of the most desirable to less desirable uses.

104.07 Establishment of the official Zoning Map. The official Zoning Map shall be established in the official Zoning Map which, together with all explanatory material thereto, is hereby adopted by reference and declared to be a part of this Code.

202.02 Commercial Office and Industrial Districts. Any accessory use such as the storage of goods or processing operations is permitted in a commercial office or industrial district provided that the accessory use is clearly incidental to the main use and has no injurious effect on adjoining uses.

Section 203.01 Area, Yard, Lot Coverage, Height and Floor Area Requirements.

Land and buildings shall be used only in accordance with the lot area regulations; and buildings shall be erected, altered, moved or demolished in accordance with the following schedules for area, yard and building height regulations:

203.01 Area, Yard and Height Regulations for Dwellings. The schedule in Section 203.02 establishes area, yard and height regulations for dwellings in accordance with the following criteria:

(a) The area of a zoned lot shall be not less than the area in square feet required for each dwelling unit as set forth in this schedule multiplied by the number of units in the building.

(b) The width of a zoned lot shall not be less than the width required for the type of zoning in which the lot is located in this schedule in which the lot is located as set forth in this schedule or as modified in subsequent sections, and shall be measured at the building line. Each one- and two-family zoning lot shall abut upon a dedicated street on the front lot line, except on curved streets where the width at the front line may be less provided the lot width at the building line meets the required lot width of the particular district.

(c) The front yard depth of a zoned lot shall be not less than the depth set forth in this schedule for the type of dwelling or other building permitted in the district in which it is located, and shall be measured from the front lot line.

(d) Two side yards shall be provided for every one- and two-family dwelling on a zoned lot. Widths of side yards of a lot shall be not less than the depth set forth in the following schedule. In no case will the distance between detached one-family dwellings and between one- and two-family dwellings be less than 30 feet in "R-1" districts, 20 feet in "R-2" districts and 15 feet in all other districts. The minimum allowable distance between detached two-family dwellings shall be 20 feet.

(e) The rear yard depth of a zoning lot for main buildings shall be not less than the depth set forth in the following schedule, for the district in which it is located, or not less than 25 per cent of the depth of the lot, whichever is the lesser.

(f) Detached mobile buildings shall be located in accordance with yard regulations as set forth in Section 202.01(a).

203.03 Yard Regulations for Multi-Family Buildings. In order to encourage greater flexibility in design and more attractive arrangements of buildings and greater utilization of open spaces, yard regulations for multi-family dwellings are hereby established for locating buildings between and within group developments.

(a) Distance between facing and overlapping buildings, or parts thereof, for a group development, or multiple buildings in arrangements of Parallel relation to the length and height of buildings. Such minimum distance shall be determined by the formula:

Minimum Distance equals $\frac{\text{LA plus LB plus HA plus HB}}{\text{divided by F}}$

The elements of the formula, illustrated on a following page, are defined as follows:

"Minimum Distance", means the required minimum horizontal distance between any wall of building "A" and the nearest wall of building "B" or the horizontal extension of either.

"L" Total length of building "A" which for the purposes of the formula is defined as the maximum length of the portion or portions of any wall or walls of building "A" from which lines drawn perpendicular to the face of such wall or walls, will intersect any wall of building "B".

"LB" means the total length of building "B" which for the purposes of this formula, is defined as the maximum length of the portion or portions of any wall or walls of building "B" from which lines drawn perpendicular to the face of such wall or walls will intersect any wall of building "A".

"HA" means the height of building "A".

"HB" means the height of building "B".

"F", means the divisor factor. "F" is "4" provided, however, the minimum distance between any main wall of any other building shall not be less than 20 feet.

(b) Distance in angular arrangements of 30 degrees to 60 degrees: such minimum distances are determined by the formula:

Minimum Distance equals $\frac{2\text{LB} + \text{HA} \text{ plus HB minus K}}{\text{divided by E}}$

The elements of the formula are defined in 203.02 (a) and are shown in the illustration. "K" in the formula varies as the sine of 2n where "n" is the angle from building "B" to building "A" or extensions thereof.

30 degrees to 34 degrees minus K equals 10 feet

35 degrees to 39 degrees minus K equals 20 feet

40 degrees to 50 degrees minus K equals 25 feet

51 degrees to 59 degrees minus K equals 30 feet

60 degrees to 60 degrees minus K equals 10 feet

(c) Distances between walls of court arrangements: such minimum distances shall be determined by applying the formula set forth in Section 203.02 (b), to each set of facing walls. In arrangements of Parallel walls with offset sections, the distance between the corresponding parallel walls shall be determined by said formula.

(d) Distance between nonoverlapping walls where walls of two buildings do not directly face each other or do not overlap that is where lines drawn perpendicular from the face of any wall or any one building will not intersect the face of any wall of another building. The minimum horizontal distance between such buildings shall be not less than one-half of the combined height of the two buildings. Such minimum distances shall be determined by the formula:

Minimum Distance equals $\frac{\text{HA plus HB divided by 2}}$

The elements of the formula are defined in Section 203.02 (a) and are shown in the illustration.

(e) Distance between building and boundary lines of a multi-family building or part thereof: in a single development or group development and any side or rear lot line of the parcel of a development area shall vary direct relation to the length and height of the building. Such minimum distance shall be as determined by the formula:

Minimum Distance equals $\frac{2(\text{LL}) \text{ plus HA divided by 4}}$

The elements of the formula are shown in the illustration and are defined as follows:

"Minimum Distance", means the minimum required horizontal distance between any wall of a building and the nearest side or rear lot line or boundaries of the parcel or development area.

"LL", means the maximum length of the side or rear lot which can be intersected by lines drawn perpendicular from the face or faces of any wall or walls of the building.

"HA", means the height of the building.

Where any multi-family development abuts a one- or two-family residential district along any rear property line, the minimum horizontal distance between any wall of the building and the main building shall be not less than the height of the main building.

203.04 Maximum Lot Coverage for Dwellings. The maximum per cent of lot coverage all buildings shall be as follows where the main use is a dwelling. The area of the building shall be as defined in Section 102.05.

(a) "AG" or "R-1" districts with off-site sewage disposal - 20 per cent.

(b) "AC" or "R-1" districts with off-site sewage disposal - 25 per cent.

(e) Places of Assembly
— Theaters or auditoriums, hotels, nightclubs, sports arenas, stadiums or gymnasiums	One space for each four seats or each ten linear feet of bench seating spaces
— Private clubs or lodges	One space for each five members
— Churches or temples	One space for each five seats in main auditorium
(f) Recreation
— Skating rinks, swimming pools, dance halls	One space per 50 square feet of area devoted to the activity
— Bowling alleys	Four spaces for each lane plus one additional space for each 200 square feet of the area used for eating, drinking, or other recreation
(g) Health and Welfare
— Hospitals	One parking space for each two beds plus one for each two employees
— Medical and dental offices and clinics	Five parking spaces for each physician plus one for each two employees
— Sanitariums, convalescent homes, nursing homes, or similar institution	One parking space for each two beds plus one for each two employees
(h) Business and Offices (including Home Professional Offices and Home Occupations)
— Supermarkets, dairy stores and carryouts	One space for each 100 square feet of sales floor area
— Furniture, appliance, hardware, electrical equipment sales and hardware stores	One space for each 300 square feet of sales floor area
— Other retail stores	One space for each 150 square feet of sales floor area
— Restaurants, night clubs, cafes	One space for each 200 square feet of public floor area
— Offices other than medical or dental	One space for each 250 square feet of floor area
— Mortuaries or funeral homes	One space for each 50 square feet of floor space for each room, parlors, or individual funeral service rooms
(i) Service and Manufacturing
— Manufacturing plants and wholesale, distribution, repair, maintenance, printing, warehouse, laboratory or similar establishments	One space for each employee on the maximum working shift plus space to accommodate all trucks and other vehicles used in connection therewith

301.02 Interpretation. The following rules shall govern the determination of space requirements:

- "Floor area" shall mean the gross floor area of the specified use.
- Fractional numbers shall be increased to the next whole number.
- For uses not specifically mentioned herein shall be the same as required for a use of similar nature.
- Whenever a building or use constructed or established after the effective date of this ordinance is changed, enlarged in floor area, added new dwelling units, seating capacity, or otherwise, to create a need for an increase of ten per cent or more in the number of existing parking spaces, such spaces shall be provided at the expense of the owner. Whenever a building or use existing prior to the effective date of this Code is enlarged to the extent of 50 per cent or more in floor area or in the area used, said building or use shall thereafter comply with the parking requirements set forth herein.

301.03 Special Parking Provisions. Every parcel of land hereafter used as a public, commercial, or private enterprise shall be developed and maintained accordance with the following requirements:

- Screening and landscaping. Off-street parking areas for more than ten vehicles should be effectively screened on each side by trees or shrubs, by a fence or wall of acceptable design which is acceptable to the Commission. Such fence or wall shall be not less than four feet or more than six feet in height and shall be maintained in good condition without any advertising thereon. The space between such fence or wall and the lot line of the adjoining premises in any residential district shall be landscaped with grass, hardy shrubs, or evergreen shrubs, or a strip of land not less than ten feet in width, and planted and maintained with an evergreen hedge or dense planting of evergreen shrubs.
- Minimum distance and setbacks. No part of any parking area for more than ten vehicles shall be closer than 20 feet to any dwelling or least than ten feet in height from any adjacent building or an adjoining lot unless separated by an acceptably-designed screen. If on the same lot with a one-or-two-family residence the parking area shall not be located within the front yard required for such building. In no case shall the setback be less than five feet to any established street or alley right-of-way. The wall or hedge required in Section 301.03(a) hereof shall be set back from each street the same as the setback required for the building, so as to observe the front yard requirements of this Code.
- Joint Use. Two or more nonresidential uses may jointly provide and use off-street parking facilities. The following provisions shall apply to overlap, provided that a written agreement, approved by the Solicitor and accepted by the Commission shall be filed with the application for occupancy and compliance certificate.
- Other locations. Parking space may be located on a lot other than the one containing the principal use provided it is within 300 feet of the use. Lots farther than 300 feet from the principal use may be accessed by footpaths through vacant lots, subject to a written agreement approved by the Solicitor and accepted by the Commission shall be filed with the application for a Occupancy and Compliance Certificate.
- Access. Access to parking areas shall be direct and unobstructed. It shall be so arranged as to reflect the light away from adjoining premises in any residential district.
- Disabled vehicles. The off-street parking of a disabled vehicle within a residential or commercial district for a period of more than two weeks shall be prohibited, except that such vehicles may be stored in an enclosed garage or other accessory building.
- Reception. In any district, in connection with every building or part thereof hereafter erected and having a gross floor area of 10,000 square feet or less, which is to be occupied by a hospital, mortuary, laundry, dry cleaning or other uses similarly requiring the receipt or distribution by vehicle of material or merchandise, there shall be provided and maintained on the same lot with such building, as least one off-street loading space, plus one additional space for each building for each additional 10,000 square feet, or major fraction thereof, of gross floor area.

- Loading space shall be not less than 12 feet in width, 15 feet in height, and 45 feet in length for tandem trailers, or 30 feet for two axle trucks.
- Any loading space may occupy all or any part of any required yard space, provided that no such space shall be located closer than 50 feet to any other lot in any residential district, unless wholly within a completely enclosed building or unless enclosed on all sides by a wall or fence at least eight feet in height.

No sign or outdoor advertising structure of any classification shall be placed on the exterior walls of buildings in any district where the area of the sign and including all of the elements of the matter displayed, frames and structural members not bearing advertising matter shall not be included in computation of surface area.

The following requirements are mandatory for all signs for which a permit is required:

- Signs not exceeding 12 square feet in area which advertise the sale, lease or rental of real premises on which the sign is located shall be permitted on any property.
- Announcement or professional signs for home occupations and businesses, signs for public use, permitted shall not exceed four square feet in area in R-1, R-2, R-3, R-4, R-5, AR-1, AR-2 districts and not more than six square feet in other districts.
- Eullett boards and signs for a church, school, community, or other nonprofit organization, permitted shall not exceed 15 square feet in area.

- Temporary signs shall be used for display of advertising except that pertaining to the use carried on within such building.
- Temporary signs not exceeding, in the aggregate, 15 square feet which announce special public or institutional events or the erection of a building, shall be permitted on any property, except that they may be erected for a period of 30 days, plus the construction period.
- No sign shall be placed in any public right-of-way except publicly-owned streets, signs for public use, permitted signs, and signs.
- Signs not exceeding six square feet in area which direct and guide traffic and parking on private property, but bear no advertising matter, shall be permitted on any property.
- Flags and pennants, except when displayed in connection with commercial promotion, shall be permitted on any property.
- Signs giving notices identification, information or directional signs erected or required by governmental bodies shall be permitted on any property.
- All wiring, fittings, and materials used in the construction, connection, or removal of signs shall be installed in accordance with the latest provisions of the National Electrical Code.
- All signs hereafter hung or erected shall be plainly marked with the name of the person, firm, or corporation hanging or erecting such sign.
- In any form, shape, or manner to a fire escape or any door or window giving access to any fire escape.
- Every sign shall have an expiration shall hereafter be erected without having first been inspected on the ground and approved by the Administrative Officer or his authorized agent. It shall be the duty of the owner to notify him to notify this official when such sign is ready for aforesaid ground inspection.
- Should any sign be or become insecure or in danger of falling or otherwise unsafe, the owner thereof or the person maintaining the same, shall immediately remove the sign, or have it installed, erected or attached proceed at once to put such sign in a safe and secure condition or remove the sign.
- If any sign shall be installed erected, constructed, or maintained in violation of any of the terms of this Code, the Administrative Officer shall notify in writing the owner or lessee thereof to alter such sign, or to come into compliance with the provisions of this Code.
- No political sign shall be posted in any place or in any manner that is destructive of public property upon posting or removal. All candidates for public office, their campaign committees, or other persons responsible for the election of public officers shall be liable for the cost of removing such material within two weeks following election.

302.03 Commercial or Industrial Signs. The following provisions shall govern the construction, installation, and locations of signs in commercial and industrial districts:

- In any ARO, AROC, LB, CBD, GB, RD, LI or HI district each sign shall be permitted one flat or wall sign. Protection of wall signs shall not exceed 12 inches from the face of the building on which it is mounted.
- The area of all permanent advertising signs for any single business enterprise shall have an overall maximum area of not more than half square feet of sign area for each linear foot of width of a building or part of a building occupied by such enterprise, but shall not exceed a maximum area of 100 square feet.
- The area of all permanent advertising signs for any single business enterprise shall be limited according to the widths of the building or part of a building occupied by such enterprise. For the purposes of this section, width shall be measured along the building facade most nearly parallel to the street line. In the case of a corner lot, either frontage may be used in determining maximum area of the sign.
- Every wall sign projecting from the face of the building shall be securely attached to the building frame, by iron or metal anchors, bolts, supports, chains stranded cables or steel rods. No such sign shall project into the street right-of-way or be supported from a street road, sidewalk.
- Free-standing signs over 30 feet in height, having a maximum total sign area of 100 square feet, shall be located and anchored not closer than ten feet to any street right-of-way line and not closer than 30 feet to any adjoining lot line may be erected to serve a group of businesses or establishments. by commercial and industrial buildings and buildings intended for public and semipublic uses shall be in accordance with Section 203.04.

(c) Building Areas and Heights. All buildings in Planned Unit Developments shall conform to the height requirements in Section 203.02. The height of the building and the dwelling unit area requirements are set forth in Section 203.01.

303.05 Lot Location. Every property subdivided under the planned unit development shall be located on a street that opens up on a street of similar area. In areas where townhouses are used there shall be no more than five townhouse units in any contiguous group. A variety of building materials for contiguous townhouse units is encouraged, provided that the lot area and the dwelling unit area requirements are met.

303.06 Arrangement of Uses. The location and arrangement of structures, parking, outdoor lighting, signs off-street parking, loading, and other uses shall be in accordance with the provisions of Section 203.02 of this Code. However, off-street parking and loading areas shall not be permitted within 15 feet of a residential use. All areas designated for parking shall be landscaped or otherwise maintained in a neat and orderly manner.

303.07 Procedure to Secure Approval of Planned Unit Development. The following procedure shall be met before approval to develop land under the planned unit development approach is granted by the Commission and Council:

(a) The preliminary development plan shall be submitted to the Commission for an approval in principle of the land uses proposed and their interrelationship. Approval in principle shall not be construed to endorse precise location of uses, configuration of parcels, or other details of the development. The preliminary development plan shall be prepared and endorsed by a qualified urban planner and shall include the following information presented in a general, schematic fashion:

- proposed location and size of the planned development;
- proposed land uses, population densities, and building intensities;
- proposed parking, loading, and other uses and open spaces;
- relation to existing and future land use in surrounding area;
- proposed provision of water, sanitary sewers, and surface drainage;
- proposed traffic circulation pattern, indicating both public and private streets;
- a market analysis of proposed commercial uses, if the property is not zoned for commercial purposes at the time of submittal of the preliminary development plan;
- proposed schedule of site development; and
- evidence that the applicants has sufficient control over the land to carry out the proposed development plan within five years.

(b) The preliminary development plan shall be submitted to the Commission to determine if it is consistent with the intent and purpose of this Code, whether the proposed development advances the general welfare of the community and neighborhood, and whether the benefits, compensation, and distribution of various uses and building intensities in the surrounding area justify the deviation from standard district regulations. The Commission's approval in principle of the preliminary development plan is necessary before an applicant may submit a detailed development plan.

(c) The detailed development plan shall be submitted in five copies and shall contain the following documents and supporting evidence, prepared and endorsed by the applicant and the design team, which shall include an urban planner, licensed architect, registered land surveyor, registered civil engineer, and registered landscape architect:

- a site plan, showing building(s) various functional use areas, circulation, and their relationship;
- a detailed development plan, which shall be in conformance with the features of the development site, including specimen trees, structure, streets, easements, utility lines, and land use;
- the approved preliminary plan, showing as appropriate, all the information required on the preliminary development plan, and a proposed location and size of the development;
- proposed density of dwelling units nonresidential building intensity and land use considered suitable for adjacent properties;
- a description of the proposed development to be constructed, progression and a description of the design principles for building and street scapes; tabulation of the number of acres in the proposed project for various uses; the number of dwelling units proposed to be constructed for each unit; the number of dwelling units proposed for each type of dwelling for each unit; estimated nonresidential population proposed retail sales area and economic justification; anticipated employment for each unit; estimated building intensity and building intensity, parking areas, population density and public improvement proposed for each unit of development whenever the applicant proposes an exception from standard zoning district or other ordinance;
- engineering feasibility studies and plans showing, as necessary, water, sewer, and other utility installations; waste disposal facilities and training; and other engineering, architectural, and civil and earth work required for site preparation and development;
- a site plan, showing building(s) various functional use areas, circulation, and their relationship;
- preliminary building plans, including floor plans and exterior elevations;
- landscape development plans; and
- regulatory instruments, covenants, and other legal statements or devices to be used to control the use, development and maintenance of the land, the improvements thereon, including those areas which are not to be developed and are to be maintained.

303.08 Basis of Approval. The Commission may recommend that the Council, after a public hearing, approve the detailed development plan provided the commission finds that the facts submitted with the plan justify the deviation from standard district regulations.

(a) the proposed development can be completed within five years of the date of approval;

(b) the proposed development, as well as the total development, can exist as an independent unit capable of creating an environment of sustained desirability and stability or that adequate assurance will be provided that such objective will be attained; the uses proposed will be of a type which will be of a type which will be of a type which will have a beneficial effect which could not be achieved under standard district regulations;

(c) the proposed development, as well as the total development, can exist as an independent unit capable of creating an environment of sustained desirability and stability or that adequate assurance will be provided that such objective will be attained; the uses proposed will be of a type which will be of a type which will be of a type which will have a beneficial effect which could not be achieved under standard district regulations;

(b) to carry anticipated traffic, and increased densities will not generate traffic in such amounts as to overload the street network outside the planned development;

(c) the proposed commercial development can be justified economically at the locations proposed to provide for adequate commercial facilities of the types proposed;

(d) any exception from standard district requirements is warranted by the design and details incorporated in the detailed development plans, in accord with the planned development approach and the adopted policy of the Commission and the Council;

(e) the area surrounding said development can be planned and zoned for coordination and substantial compatibility with the proposed development;

(f) the planned development is in general conformance with the Comprehensive Development Plan of the City of Circleville; and

(g) the existing and proposed utility services are adequate for the population density proposed.

Section 303.09 Action by the Commission and Council. The Commission or the Council shall deny the detailed development plan if, from the facts presented, either the Commission or the Council is unable to make the findings required by Section 303.08. The Commission or the Council may also approve with specific amendments or disapproval of the detailed development plan within 30 days of the date of submission of said plan.

303.10 Approval Period. The approval shall be for a period of five years to allow the preparation and recording of the required subdivision plan and the development of the project. If no development has occurred, the plan shall be voided and the land shall revert to the district regulations.

which is located. An extension of the time limit or modification of the approved development plan may be approved if the Commission determines that such extension or modification is not in conflict with the public interest.

303.11 Other Requirements. Utilities, including telephone and electric systems, shall be underground within the limits of all planned developments. No other utility shall be installed in a planned development except as may be exempted from this requirement if the Commission finds that such exemption will not violate the intent or character of the proposed development.

Section 303.12 Provisions for Residential Uses

304.01 Conversion of Dwelling to More Units. In single- and two-family residence districts and in any multiple residence district a residence may be converted to accommodate an increased number of dwellings provided:

- (a) the yard dimensions still meet the yard dimensions required by the Code for new structures in that district;
- (b) the lot area per family shall equal the lot area requirements for new structures in that district;
- (c) the number of square feet of living area per family unit is not reduced less than that which is required for new construction in that district.

304.02 Swimming Pools. No private swimming pool, exclusive of public swimming pools, shall be constructed on a lot less than 100 square feet.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, no structure shall be moved, altered, or otherwise changed, however, it shall thereafter conform to the regulations for the district in which it is located.

306.08 Nonconforming Uses of Structures or of Structures and Premises in Combination. If lawful use involving individual structures with a combination of uses, or if lawful use involving structures and premises in combination, exists at the effective date of adoption or amendment of this Code, that would not be allowed in the district under the terms of such Code, such use may continue as long as it remains otherwise lawful, subject to the following provisions:

a) No existing structure devoted to a use not permitted by this Code in the district in which it is located shall be enlarged, extended, or otherwise structurally altered except in conformity with the provisions of this Code, except in changing the use of the structure to a use permitted in the district in which it is located.

b) The nonconforming use may be extended throughout any parts of a building which were manifestly arranged or designated for such use at the time of adoption or amendment of this Code, but no such use shall be extended beyond the boundaries of the building.

c) If no structural alterations are made, any nonconforming use of a structure, or structure and premises, may be changed to another nonconforming use provided that the Board of Zoning Appeals finds that the proposed use is equally appropriate or more appropriate to the district than the existing nonconforming use. In permitting such changes, the Board shall take due account of public health, safety, and aesthetics in accordance with the provisions of this Code.

d) Any structure, or structure and land in combination, in or upon which a nonconforming use is being conducted, shall be maintained so as to conform to the regulations for the district, and the nonconforming use may not thereafter be resumed.

e) A nonconforming use of a structure, or structure and premises in combination, is discontinued or abandoned for 12 consecutive months or for 30 months during any five year period (except when government action impedes access to the premises), the structure, or structure and premises, shall thereafter be deemed to have been discontinued in conformity with the regulations of the district in which it is located.

f) Where nonconforming use status applies to a structure and premises in combination, the entire structure and premises shall be required to designate the nonconforming status of the land. Destruction for the purpose of this sub-section is defined as damage to an extent of more than 60 percent of the original volume of the structure, or destruction.

306.09 Repairs and Maintenance. Nothing in this Code shall be deemed to prevent the strengthening or restoring to a safe condition of any building or part thereof declared to be unsafe by an official charged with enforcing the public safety laws, or other such official.

306.10 Conditional Uses. Any use which is permitted as a Conditional Use in a district under the terms of this Code (other than a change in use from one conditional use to another) shall be deemed to be not generally permitted in the district) shall not be deemed a nonconforming use in such district, but shall without further action be considered a nonconforming use.

306.11 Certification of Nonconforming Uses. An Occupancy and Compliance Certificate shall be required for all lawful nonconforming uses of land and structures.

A certificate for a nonconforming use shall be filed with the Administrative Officer by the owner or lessee of the land or structure occupied by such nonconforming use within one year of the date of the ordinance or resolution amending the Code.

306.12 Zoning Certificate Required for a Nonconforming Use. It shall be the duty of the Administrative Officer to issue a certificate for a lawful nonconforming use, or to refuse to do so, or to suspend or revoke a nonconforming use or refusal of the Administrative Officer to issue a certificate for such nonconforming use shall be evidence that said nonconforming use is unlawful. The Administrative Officer shall file the effective date of the ordinance or amendment.

ARTICLE 000 - ADMINISTRATION, DISTRICT CHANGES, AMENDMENTS AND ENFORCEMENT

Section 00 - Administration

40.01 Power of Board of Appeals to Adopt Rules and Regulations. The Board shall have the power to frame and adopt rules and regulations for the administration of the Code, and such rules and regulations shall not be inconsistent with law or with this or other ordinances of the city.

40.02 Procedural Regulations for the Board of Zoning Appeals.

(a) Meetings of the Board shall be held at the call of the chairman and at such other times as said Board may determine. Each meeting of said Board shall be open to the public. All business transacted at a meeting shall require a majority vote of the members present. The Board shall keep minutes of its proceedings showing the vote of each member upon each question, or its abstention or failing to vote, indicating such fact, and all minutes shall be available to the public.

(b) Four of the seven members present shall constitute a quorum of the Board.

(c) Affirmative votes shall be required for the passage of any resolution which:

- recommends the amendment of this Code;
- grants a use permit;
- voids or varies from exception to the district or other provisions of this Code;
- establishes conditions precedent to the granting of a use permit, or grants an exception to the provisions of this Code, or concerns any official action of the Board; or
- acts as a Board of appeals.

40.03 Duties of the Board of Zoning Appeals. The powers and duties of the Board shall be as follows:

(a) To make recommendations of this ordinance and its accompanying regulations to the Council.

(b) To grant or deny Occupancy and Compliance Certificates when the question of the issuance of such certificate is referred to it by the Administrative Officer, or when the provisions of this Code indicate that such certificate is required.

(c) To overrule any official action of the Administrative Officer when, in its opinion, such action has been contrary to the intent and spirit of this ordinance, or when the Board determines that such action is in violation of the Ordinance, or when the Board deems necessary to set aside any Occupancy and Compliance Certificate issued or any action taken by said Administrative Officer by notifying said Administrative Officer of its decision.

(d) To recommend Conditional Use Permits when justified and to set forth its own standards and regulations for the use of any land or structures which the Board deems necessary to carry out the full intent of this ordinance.

(e) To permit exceptions to and variations (variances) from the district or other regulations in this ordinance including conditional and similar uses.

(f) To recommend to the Council the approval or denial of application to amend this Code or its accompanying Zoning Map.

(g) To recommend to the Council the number of districts in the number of shape, area, or regulations for any district or provision of this Code.

40.04 Power of City Council on Appeals. In applying the provisions of this Code, the Council reserves the power to:

- grant or deny an Occupancy and Compliance Certificate;
- overrule any recommendation of the Board of Zoning Appeals;
- recommend Conditional Use Permits when justified and to set forth its own standards and regulations for the use of any land or structures which the Board deems necessary to carry out the full intent of this ordinance;
- permit exceptions to and variations (variances) from the district or other regulations in this ordinance including conditional and similar uses;
- to recommend to the Council the approval or denial of application to amend this Code or its accompanying Zoning Map.

402.61 Occupancy and Compliance. No building or use shall hereafter be located constructed, re-constructed, enlarged or structurally altered nor shall any work be started upon same until an Occupancy and Compliance Certificate for same has been issued by the Administrative Officer.

402.02 Plat to be Submitted Before Issuance of Certificate. No Occupancy and Compliance Certificate shall be issued by the Administrative Officer until the applicant for said certificate has submitted a plat of the area upon which the applicant's use or structure is proposed. Said plat shall show the type of proposed use structural dimensions at the ground, lot dimensions, side, front and rear yard set-backs, and a signed statement that said applicant will conform with all zoning regulations then in force for said area.

Requiring Site Plan Review. The Administrative Officer shall not issue a certificate for any application requiring site plan review by the Commission or Board of Health; namely Planned Unit Development projects and Mobile Home Parks respectively, unless the proposed site plan has been approved by the Commission and the Board of Health.

no building heretofore located, constructed, reconstructed, enlarged or structurally altered shall be occupied or used in whole or in part for any purpose except that of agriculture in accordance with the terms of this Code, until an Occupancy and Compliance Certificate is issued by the Administrative Officer, stating that the building and use comply with the provisions of this Code. No change of use shall be made in a building or part thereof now or hereafter located, constructed, reconstructed, enlarged or structurally altered for any purpose except that of agriculture.

structed, enlarged or structurally altered except for agriculture or single family dwelling purposes, without an Occupancy and Compliance Certificate being used by the Administrative Officer. No Occupancy and Compliance Certificate shall be issued to make a change unless the changes are in conformity with the provisions of this Code, or unless a variance has been granted by the Board.

402.05 Record of Certificates. A record of an Occupancy and Compliance Certificate shall be kept on file in the office of the Administrative Officer, and copies shall be furnished on request to any person having proprietary or tenancy interest in the building affected.

402.06 Certificate Fee. The fee for an Occupancy and Compliance Certificate shall be $2.50, except as otherwise provided herein. Such certificate fees as are required in this section shall be paid to the Administrative Officer.

403.01 Application for Permits. Applications for such permits shall be made to the Board. The Board shall hold a hearing thereon with notice.

of hearing either published in a newspaper of general circulation mailed to the owners of property contiguous to and across the street from the parcel for which a Conditional Use Permit is requested at least 15 days before the hearing. The Board shall take action upon such an application within 30 days from the date of receiving said application. Failure to act within such period shall be deemed approval.

(a) that the proposed use is properly located in relation to any adopted land use or traffic plan for the area;

(c) that the proposed use is necessary to serve the surrounding area and cannot function as well in a less restrictive district where it would be permitted by right;

(d) that the proposed location, design and operation of such use would not impair the appropriate development or value of the surrounding district.

(f) that the hours of operation of the proposed use will not be objectionable to surrounding uses.

403.04 Approval. The approval of a Conditional Use Permit shall become null and void if the construction of the building or site improvements are not started within a six-month period after the date of approval.

Section 404 — Administration: Variances

404.01 Authorizations. The Board may, in appropriate cases and subject to appropriate conditions and safeguards, vary the strict application

404.02 Applications for Variance. Written application for a variance shall be made to the Administrative Officer who shall transmit said application to the Board. Each application for a variance shall be accompanied by a check or cash payment of $10.00 which shall be applied to the cost of advertising and expense incidental to reviewing, publishing and reporting the case. All such fees as are required in this section shall be paid to the Administrative Officer who shall deliver same to the Auditor.

404.03 Notice of Hearing. The Board shall cause the property in question to be posted with a zoning notice. Said zoning notice shall state thereunto the time and place of public hearing to be held by the Board on the 404.04 Hearing on Application. Before approving or denying the application before it, the Board shall hold at least one public hearing. At said application, notice of which shall be given by seven days advance publication of place, time, date, and nature of use applied for in one or more newspapers of general circulation in the City of Circleville, Ohio. At such hearing, the applicant shall present a statement and evidence.

At such hearing the applicant shall present a statement and supporting evidence, in such form as the Board may require, and said Board shall not grant a variance unless it finds that all of the following conditions apply to the case in question:

- (a) There are special circumstances or conditions applying to the land, building or use referred to in the application.
- (b) The granting of the variance is necessary for the preservation and

(c) The granting of the application will not adversely affect the health or safety of persons residing or working in the neighborhood of the proposed use and will not be materially detrimental to the public welfare or injurious to property or improvements in such neighborhood.

404.06 Conditions for Granting Variance. In granting any variance under the provisions of this section, the Board shall designate such conditions as may be necessary to protect the public interest.

in connection therewith which will, in its opinion, secure the objectives of this ordinance or provisions in the application of which the variance is granted, as to the public health, safety, comfort, convenience, and general welfare.

404.07 Granting of Variance. If it finds those conditions set forth in Sections 404.04 to be applicable to the property in question, the Board shall, after specifying such conditions as it deems necessary direct the Administrative Officer to issue Occupancy and Compliance Certificate for a use variance or dimensional variance.

Section 405 — District Changes and Code Amendments.

405.01 General. Whenever the public necessity, convenience, general welfare, or good zoning practices require, the Council may by ordinance after receipt of recommendation thereon from the Commission, amend, supplement, or change the regulations, district boundaries, or classification of property. It shall be the duty of the Commission to submit recommendations regarding all applications for proposed amendments or supplements to the Council.

405.02 Procedure for Change in Zoning Districts. Applications for any change of district boundaries shall be submitted to the Commission, as shown on the official Zoning Map shall be submitted to the Commission, at its public office, upon such forms, and shall be accompanied by such data and information as may be prescribed for that purpose by the Commission, so as to assure the fullest practicable presentation of facts for the permanent record. Each proposal for a zone change shall be accompanied by a reproducible vicinity map to a scale of such equals 200 feet or other scale as may be approved by the Administrative Officer, showing the property lines, streets, and proposed zoning. Each such application shall be verified by at least one of the owners or lessees of the property, and the application shall be accompanied by a statement of the truth and correctness of all facts and information presented with the application. Applications for amendments initiated by the Commission shall be accompanied by its motion pertaining to such proposed amendment.

405.03 Names and Addresses of Adjacent Property Owners. Any person or persons desiring a change in the zoning classification of property shall file with the application for such change a statement giving the names and addresses of the owners of all properties lying within 500 feet of any part of the property the zoning classification of which is proposed to be changed.

405.04 Public Hearing by the Planning and Zoning Commission. Before submitting its recommendation on a proposed amendment to the Council, the Commission shall hold a public hearing on the proposed amendment, to be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the city at least 30 days before the date of the hearing. The notice shall state the place and time at which the proposed amendment to the ordinance, including text and maps, may be examined.

405.05 Notice to Property Owners. The Commission shall give notice of the time, place, and purpose of public hearings to be held by it on proposed amendments or supplements, by mailing a postal card or letter not less than 20 days prior to the date of the hearing, to the owners of all properties lying within 500 feet of any part of the property proposed to be changed. The failure to give notice as provided in this section, shall not invalidate any recommendations adopted hereunder.

405.06 Action by the Planning and Zoning Commission. In deciding on a change of this Code, the Commission shall consider the following elements not be entered on the minutes of said commission.

(a) adjacent land use;

(b) the relationship of topography to the use intended or to its implications;

(c) access and traffic flow;

(d) adjacent zoning;

(e) the correctness of the application for the type of change requested;

(f) the relationship of the use requested to the public safety, morals, or general welfare; and

(g) the relationship of the area requested to the area to be used.

405.07 Decision and Certification. After public hearing and consideration of the case, the Commission shall certify to the Council one of the following actions:

(a) It shall recommend to the Council that the application be granted as requested and shall prepare an ordinance to that effect for submission to the Council.

(b) It shall recommend to the Council that the application be granted with modifications and shall prepare an ordinance to that effect for submission to the Council.

(c) It shall deny the application and notify the applicant. If within 40 days the applicant appeals to the Council to hear the case, the Commission shall certify the record of its hearings and decision on the application to the Council.

405.08 Public Hearing by City Council. After receiving from the Commission the certification of said recommendations on the proposed amendment, and before adoption of such amendment, the Council shall hold a public hearing thereon, giving at least a 30 day notice of the time and place of such hearing by publication to a newspaper of general circulation in the city, once a week for two weeks. The notice shall state the place and time at which the proposed amendment to the ordinance, including text and maps, may be examined.

405.09 Notice to Property Owners. The Clerk of Council shall give notice of the time, place, and purpose of public hearings to be held by it on proposed amendments or supplements, by mailing a first-class mail notice not less than 20 days prior to the date of hearing to the owners of all properties lying within 500 feet of any part of the property proposed to be changed. The failure to give notice as provided in this section shall not invalidate any recommendation adopted hereunder.

405.10 Action by City Council. After receiving from the Commission the certification of said recommendations on the proposed amendment and after holding the above public hearing, the Council shall consider such recommendations and vote on the passage of the proposed amendment to the text of the ordinance or the official Zoning Map. No such ordinance measure, or regulation which differs from or departs from the plan or report submitted by the Commission shall take effect unless passed or approved by not less than three-fourths of the membership of the legislative authority and by Mayor.

405.11 City Council May Initiate Amendments. The Council may amend or change the number, shape, area, or regulations of or within any district, but no such amendment or change shall become effective unless the ordinance proposing it is first submitted to the Commission for approval, disapproval, or suggestions, and said commission is allowed a reasonable time, not less than 30 days, for consideration and report.

405.12 Application Fees. At the time that an application for a change of zoning districts is filed with the Commission, as provided herein, there shall be deposited with the Auditor the sum of $30.00 as a fee to cover investigation, legal notices, and other expenses incidental to the determination of such matter; such fee to be for one lot or part of one lot. An additional fee of $5.00 shall be deposited for each additional lot or part of an additional lot which may be included in the application. The total fee shall not exceed $60.00. Such sums so deposited shall be credited by the Auditor to the general fund of the city.

405.13 Application Fees Refund. In the event that the Commission disapproves the application and the petitioner elects not to have the same certified to the Council, then a refund of $15.00, plus an additional refund of $3.00 for each additional lot or part of an additional lot which was included in the application shall be made to the petitioner by the Auditor, provided that the Auditor is notified of such decision by the petitioner within ten days from the time of the action taken by the Commission.

Section 406 — Enforcement.

406.01 Administrative Officer to Enforce Code. It shall be the duty of the Administrative Officer to enforce the provisions of this Code.

406.02 Injunction Available as a Remedy. In the event of the violation of any section or part of this Code, or imminent threat thereof, the City of Circleville, or the owner of any contiguous or neighboring property who would be especially damaged by such violation in addition to any other remedies provided by law, may institute a suit for injunction to prevent or terminate such violation.

406.03 Separability. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this Code is held to be invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Code. All ordinances or parts of ordinances of the City of Circleville in conflict with any regulation, provision, amendment or supplement of this Code, are to the extent of such conflict hereby repealed.

406.04 Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation violating any regulation, provision, amendment or supplement of this Code or failing to obey any lawful order of the Administrative Officer issued in pursuance thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not less than $25.00 or more than $50.00. A separate offense shall be deemed committed for each and every day during or upon which such illegal location, erection, construction, reconstruction, enlargement, change, maintenance, or use occurs or continues.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND RESCINDING OF PREVIOUS ZONING CODE

406.05 Effective date. This Code shall become effective from and after the date of its approval and adoption, as provided by law; and the previous zoning code is hereby rescinded.

Divorce Laws Under Attack In Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's divorce laws are, in many instances, "nothing but a fraud," a Stark County judge told a legislative committee today.

Judge John Milligan of Canton urged the eight-member joint committee considering overhaul of Ohio's divorce laws to establish guidelines for judges in custody and contested divorces.

"Whatever happens in this area must come from the legislature," he said. "There is no common law right of divorce. There is no means for a judge to create new law."

Milligan, a Common Pleas Court judge, said there are 40,000 divorces in Ohio each year and 60,000 marriages.

He said the state should be more concerned with the status of parties involved in divorce than they are with the fault.

Rep. Alan E. Norris, R-59, Westerville, chairman of the joint committee said the purpose of the hearings "is not to devise ways to make divorces easier to obtain. The purpose is to strengthen family ties if we can."

Additional hearings have been tentatively set for Sept. 10 and Oct. 5.

The committee will meet after that to draft possible legislation.

"We are certainly going to spend a lot of time inquiring into fault (grounds) procedure," Norris said.

He said he has been offered all kinds of proposed solutions, including one suggestion that a marriage license be renewed every two years.

"I doubt that we will give that consideration," he added.

Water Systems Near Cincinnati Said 'Inferior'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Of water systems in the Cincinnati metropolitan area tested by the Public Health Service, none was found to be potentially hazardous, but these six were rated inferior by federal standards.

Reading, Harrison, Felicity, Twightwee, Maple Leaf and Mobile Manor.

The Public Health Service said inferior water is safe, but may have a bad taste, odor or appearance.

Greater Cincinnati was the only Ohio metropolitan area included in the service's survey.

The study, conducted last year, found that 16 per cent of the 969 water systems tested nationally were potentially hazardous and another 25 per cent delivered inferior water.

Eaton Supports 'Adult Education'

PUGWASH, Nova Scotia (AP) — Cleveland industrialist Cyrus S. Eaton urged that educators focus more attention on adults if they wish to save civilization from nuclear destruction.

In remarks prepared for the opening of the Pugwash Conference on Education for International Understanding, he also advocated making radio and television "more the tools of educators and less the toys of shallow commercial amusement."

The 20 specialists in adult education representing 11 nations were welcomed to the "Thinkers' Lodge" conference with a challenge from their 8-year-old co-host to devise means to change the thinking of "stodgy senior executives of corporations, crusty old labor leaders, opinionated editors and bigoted preachers," as well as "elder statesmen" and "professional militarists."

Eaton is co-sponsor of the conference with Dr. J. R. Kidd, editor of "Convergence," the international journal of adult education which is published in four languages by the Ontario Institute for Studies and Education of the University of Toronto.

Dear Abby: Fiance Has Growing Up To Do!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Joe and I are engaged to be married soon. He's intelligent, treats me good and I'm sure he loves me. However, we have this one argument every time any of my family calls, comes over or invites us to their home. Joe can't stand them, and he makes it obvious.

If he comes over and they are already here, the room gets silent and the atmosphere becomes tense as soon as he walks in the door. My family knows Joe doesn't like them.

He won't go to their house unless practically dragged by the hair, and when he does, he never talks. Joe is a shy person to begin with, but after two years, don't you think it's time he felt a little more at ease with them?

I make an effort to get along with everybody in his family, and there are a few I don't care for.

Abby, how can I get him to accept my family like I've accepted his? This really bothers me.

JOE'S FIANCEE

DEAR FIANCEE: Joe may be "intelligent," but he has a lot of growing up to do. Any grown man who refuses to make an effort to be at least "pleasant" to his fiancée's family shows himself to be immature. He may be "naturally shy," but that's no excuse for rudeness. And if you're a sensitive girl who likes to see a lot of her family, you'd better recognize a king-sized threat to your marriage before it engulfs you.

DEAR ABBY: There is a young woman in our crowd who makes a habit of caressing the hand of the gentleman who is lighting her cigarette. In fact, I have observed that when she wants attention she will put a cigarette in her mouth and helplessly look around for a light until someone notices her.

lessly look around for a light until someone notices her.

State Loan Investigation Is Recessed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A special grand jury probing the state loan scandal will remain recessed until Aug. 26 while assistant prosecutor John Peck travels out-of-state in search of further information.

Peck would not reveal what cities he planned to visit, but said, "Hopefully, we'll be ready to go with a great deal of information when the jury reconvenes."

The grand jury is investigating loans made by the state treasurer's office and the School Employees Retirement System.

Peck recessed the jury after informing it of a demand by Democratic state Chairman Eugene P. O'Grady that he and Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson be removed from the investigation.

O'Grady made the request in a letter to Common Pleas Court Judge Myron Gessaman. Gessaman said Monday he had not received the letter and was undecided what action he would take after he received it.

O'Grady asked the removal of Johnson and Peck because they met last Thursday with state Republican Chairman John C. Andrews.

GREEN EYES

DEAR GREEN, She's probably after a cheap thrill. Don't let it throw you. You have the bonfire. She's getting only the sparks.

DEAR ABBY: I was startled to discover some love letters from several men to my wife's closet friend. I thought my wife was merely secreting them for her until further discovery forced me to conclude that these extramarital games must be "contagious." Secreted in the same place was a large cache of birth control pills with my wife's name on the prescription. My wife should have no use for these pills since I have had a vasectomy 10 years ago when we both decided our family was complete.

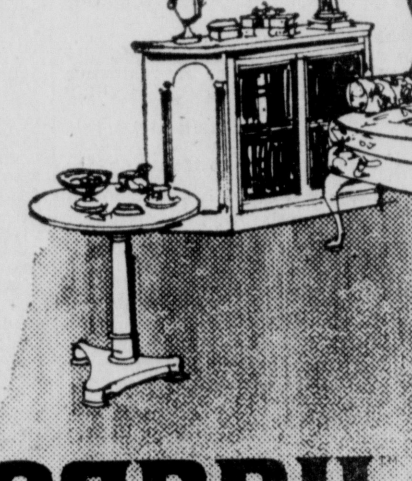

When I asked her for an explanation, I was told I needed "psychiatric" help to cure me of snooping and to help me accept this changing world.

Dick Contino Still Around Squeezing On Accordion

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Dick Contino is one of those household names of yesteryear, catapulted overnight into America's most famous accordion player in the last hurrah of national radio show broadcasts.

They called him "the Yankee Clipper of the accordion," comparing his skill in music with that of baseball's then Yankee Clipper, Joe DiMaggio.

For week after week he stole the show on the old Horace Heidt Talent Show, a coast-to-coast Sunday night broadcast which ran in the same class for popularity as "Your Hit Parade" and "Stop the Music," and claimed audiences as fiercely loyal as Lawrence Welk does today.

It may come as a shock to those who think of the pretelevision era as long in the past, but Contino has only just turned 40. And he still makes a living at squeezing the accordion.

But after years on the whistle-stop entertainment circuit, or playing in and out of Los Angeles' Contino has returned to his hometown, Fresno, with his pretty wife, three children and pet mouse Josephine.

"I suppose it sounds phony, but what I'm trying to do is recapture the roots," the long-winded minstrel said in an interview at his new $30,000 stucco home in this inland California city. "My home is Fresno. I was born here, and there are all those relatives..."

He's taken to longish, almost shaggy hair and mod clothing including beads, boots and trim trousers—a contrast to his fresh-faced conventional teen-age appearance of the late 1940s.

That public image first changed in the Korean War when Contino refused to be drafted into the Army, asserting he was too nervous to adjust to military life. Convicted and jailed as a draft evader, Contino thinks he redeemed himself by deciding to serve and enlisting in the Army—in which he entertained troops with his accordion.

Today, he says, it's his long locks that affect his image with some.

"The hair? Oh yeah. I get an awful lot of guff from people who remember the older image. It's funny, if I'd tell them about giving up drinking and smoking, they'd pass that right up. All they think is that the hair is repulsive."

See Weather Holding Key To Blight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Weather conditions over the next few months will have a major affect on the extent of damage caused by a corn fungus spreading into the state, according to a plant pathologist.

Dr. B. F. Jansen of the Ohio State University Cooperative Extension Service said the fungus favors rainy weather, high humidity and temperatures in the 80s.

He said the fungus, called the southern leaf blight, could destroy up to 75 per cent of Ohio's corn crop under favorable weather conditions.

The fungus, which attacks corn ears, leaves and stalks has been reported in Lucas, Sandusky and Portage counties and in sections of southern Ohio.

Another expert says the destructive fungus can be controlled by chemical sprays, but most farmers can't afford them.

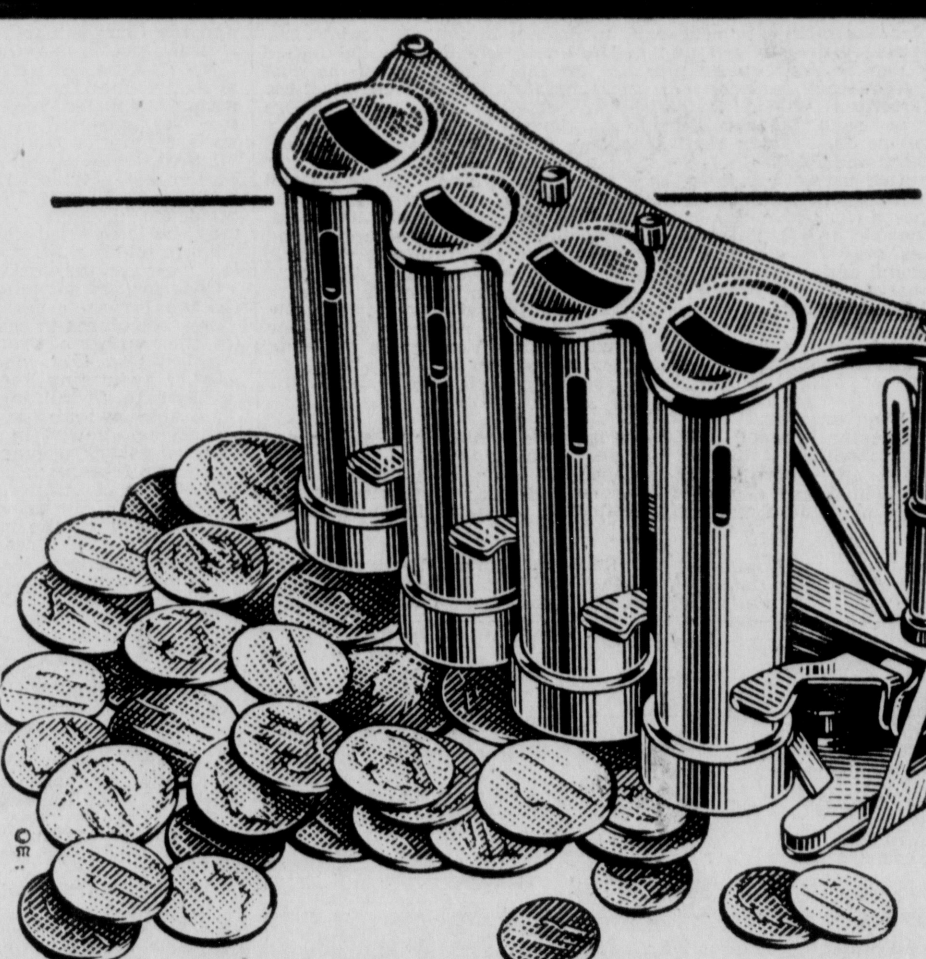

Even these expensive measures are worthless, according to Lansing Williams of the Ohio Agriculture Research and Development Center at Wooster, unless plants are covered with the spray before fungus spores spread.

Dear Abby: Fiance Has Growing Up To Do!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Joe and I are engaged to be married soon. He's intelligent, treats me good, and I'm sure he loves me. However, we have this one argument every time any of my family calls, comes over or invites us to their home. Joe can't stand them, and he makes it obvious.

If he comes over and they are already here, the room gets silent and the atmosphere becomes tense as soon as he walks in the door. My family knows Joe doesn't like them.

He won't go to their house unless practically dragged by the hair, and when he does, he never talks. Joe is a shy person to begin with, but after two years, don't you think it's time he felt a little more at ease with them?

I make an effort to get along with everybody in his family, and there are a few I don't care for.

Abby, how can I get him to accept my family like I've accepted his? This really bothers me.

JOE'S FIANCEE: Joe may be "intelligent," but he has a lot of growing up to do. Any grown man who refuses to make an effort to be at least "pleasant" to his fiancée's family shows himself to be immature. He may be "naturally shy," but that's no excuse for rudeness. And if you're a sensitive girl who likes to see a lot of her family, you'd better recognize a king-sized threat to your marriage before it engulfs you.

DEAR ABBY: There is a young woman in our crowd who makes a habit of caressing the hand of the gentleman who is lighting her cigarette. In fact, I have observed that when she wants attention she will put a cigarette in her mouth and helplessly look around for a light until someone notices her.

Peck would not reveal what she has planned to visit, but said, "Hopefully, we'll be ready to go with a great deal of information when the jury reconvenes."

The grand jury is investigating loans made by the state treasurer's office and the School Employees Retirement System.

Peck recessed the jury after informing it of a demand by Democratic state Chairman Eugene P. O'Grady that he and Prosecutor C. Howard Johnson be removed from the investigation.

O'Grady made the request in a letter to Common Pleas Court Judge Myron Gessaman. Gessaman said Monday he had not received the letter and was undecided what action he would take after he received it.

O'Grady asked the removal of Johnson and Peck because they met last Thursday with state Republican Chairman John C. Andrews.

The prosecutors admit the meeting took place, but deny political motives were involved. Peck said the meeting was held to seek more evidence.

Johnson said Monday O'Grady's demand was "nothing but politics in a political year — cheap politics."

When I asked her for an explanation, I was told I needed "psychiatric" help to cure me of snooping and to help me accept this changing world.

She did offer me an "excuse" for the pills. (They weren't necessarily for "birth control," her doctor prescribes them for another reason.)

DEAR ABBY: I was startled to discover some love letters from several men to my wife's closet friend. I thought my wife was merely secreting them for her until further discovery forced me to conclude that these extramarital games must be "contagious."

Secreted in the same place was a large cache of birth control pills with my wife's name on the prescription. My wife should have no use for these pills since I have had a vasectomy 10 years ago when we both decided our family was complete.

Dick Contino Still Around Squeezing On Accordion

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Dick Contino is one of those household names of yesteryear, catapulted overnight into America's most famous accordion player in the last hurrah of national radio show broadcasts.

They called him "The Yankee Clipper of the accordion," comparing his skill in music with that of baseball's then Yankee Clipper, Joe DiMaggio.

For week after week he stole the show on the old Horace Heidt Talent Show, a coast-to-coast Sunday night broadcast which ran in the same class for popularity as "Your Hit Parade" and "Stop the Music," and claimed audiences as fiercely loyal as Lawrence Welk does today.

Your recent comment, "copper bracelets may not do any good but they can't do any harm," was somewhat misleading, since prompt and correct medical treatment can prevent crippling, in many cases. So, if victims of arthritis wear copper bracelets, hoping for a miraculous cure instead of seeking medical attention, much time is wasted, which is not only harmful, but tragic.

WARREN BENSON, TUCSON, ARIZ. DEAR MR. BENSON: Thank you for your letter which was one of many urging me to set the record straight. And I hereby do so.

It may come as a shock to those who think of the pre-television era as long in the past, but Contino has only just turned 40. And he still makes a living at squeezing the accordion.

But after years on the whistle-stop entertainment circuit, or playing in and out of Los Angeles, Contino has returned to his hometown, Fresno, with his pretty wife, three children and pet mouse Josephine.

"I suppose it sounds phony, but what I'm trying to do is recapture the roots," the long wandering minstrel said in an interview at his new $30,000 stucco home in this inland California city. "My home is Fresno. I was born here, and there are all those relatives..."

He's taken to longish, almost shaggy hair and mod clothing including beads, boots and trim trousers—a contrast to his fresh-faced conventional teen-age appearance of the late 1940s.

That public image first changed in the Korean War when Contino refused to be drafted into the Army, asserting he was too nervous to adjust to military life. Convicted and jailed as a draft evader, Contino thinks he redeemed himself by deciding to serve and enlisting in the Army—in which he entertained troops with his accordion.

Today, he says, it's his long locks that affect his image with some.

"The hair? Oh yeah, I get an awful lot of guff from people who remember the older image. It's funny, if I'd tell them about giving up drinking and smoking, they'd pass that right up. All they think is that the hair is repulsive."

DEAR ABBY: I was startled to discover some love letters from several men to my wife's closet friend. I thought my wife was merely secreting them for her until further discovery forced me to conclude that these extramarital games must be "contagious."

Cloud Says Ohioans Can't Afford Gilligan

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Gubernatorial candidate Roger Cloud told the Greater Republican Club of Toledo Monday Ohioans cannot afford the $1 billion in new tax programs proposed by his Democratic opponent.

Cloud said Democratic nominee John J. Gilligan has advocated massive new spending and a state income tax. "We don't need Gilligan to tax our paychecks any further," he declared.

Rampaging Reds Stop Phils, 9-3

By KEN RAPPOPORT

A good-hitting bench doesn't hurt when you're going for a pennant.
It's even better when your Bench catches.
Johnny Bench, Cincinnati's phenom-in-residence, does both the hitting and catching for the Reds—good reason why they're atop the National League's West Division race by 13 games.
Bench laced a three-run homer among his three hits, lifting his league lead to 41 round-trippers and 121 RBIs, as the Reds squashed Philadelphia 9-3 Monday night.
The homer also tied him with Roy Campanella for most hits by a catcher in a season, although seven of Bench's shots were hit while playing other positions.
Los Angeles, runners-up in the West, lost ground in its chase when beaten by St. Louis 11-8. Elsewhere, Chicago spanked San Diego 7-0 and San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 5-4.
Tony Perez, the other swinger in the Reds' one-two punch, hit No. 37, also a three-run job, to help Jim Merritt become the NL's first 18-game winner.
Merritt, a swinger himself, hit his third homer of the year to aid his cause.
Bob Gibson won his 17th game with ninth-inning relief help from Chuck Taylor in St. Louis' victory over Los Angeles. Gibson was pulled after serving his 14th hit—a one-out single to Ted Sizemore. Taylor then got Billy Grabarkewitz to line into a game-ending double play.
The Dodgers' hit total gave them 130 in their last nine games—but three were losses.

Joe Namath Rejoins Jets; Cook Is Lost To Bengals

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
There was good news for the New York Jets and bad news for the Cincinnati Bengals in pro football today.
Joe Namath, the colorful and controversial star quarterback, was scheduled to report to the Jets' training camp after missing the first two exhibition games of the season. The Bengals lost their star QB, Greg Cook, for the entire season.
Namath, the Super Bowl hero of two years ago, passed a one-hour and 45-minute physical examination Monday and a happy Weeb Ewbank, Coach of the Jets, said: "We're happy to have Joe coming back."
Cook, a standout passer for Cincinnati as a rookie last season, hurt his right shoulder in a pick-up basketball game this spring. He underwent a two-hour operation Monday and physicians reported there was "no way" he could play this season.
Another quarterback, Ken Stabler of Oakland, was in the news. He connected for three touchdowns passes of 49, 22 and 60 yards, to lead the Raiders to a 30-19 exhibition victory over the Philadelphia Eagles Monday night.
A former Alabama star like Namath, Stabler's three TD aeri-als made up for a fumble that almost made him the goat before 50,853 at Franklin Field.
He bobbled the snap from center on an Oakland field goal try. Ray Jones of the Eagles picked up the ball and ran 77 yards for a touchdown that tied the score at 16-16 late in the third period.
The Eagles went ahead at 19-16 before Stabler came through with the last two of his touch-down passes. Rod Sherman caught the 60-yarder that ensured victory for the Raiders.
Al Atkinson, who announced his retirement from the Jets several weeks ago, changed his mind and reported to the Jets' camp Monday. The star middle linebacker is expected to see limited action, like Namath, when the Jets played their rival New York Giants in the Yale Bowl at New Haven, Conn., Sunday.
Safety Eddie Meador, an 11-year veteran with the Los Angeles Rams, changed his mind about retirement and said he would report to the Rams later this week.
In a contrary development Walt Sweeney, an eight-year veteran offensive guard with the San Diego Chargers, said he was quitting football over the wording of his contract other than salary terms.
Elsewhere, John Small, the No. 1 draft choice of the Atlanta Falcons from The Citadel, was shifted from linebacker to defensive tackle.
Red Division Tops Black Division, 7-4
In a Mosquito League post season fray, the Red Division All-Stars took the Black Division, 7-4.
John Harr was the winning hurler fanning nine would be hitters and allowing nine bases on balls and five hits.
Kevin Woltz and Jerry Mogan took the loss on the hill with six hits, five walks and nine strikeouts.
Todd Brady hit a triple in the third stanza and the Reds tallied six runs in the inning. Woltz hit a two-baser for the Black.

Jets Blank Whips, 5-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Columbus Jets blanked the last-place Winnipeg Whips 5-0 Monday night to remain a fraction of a percentage point behind Rochester in the race for second place in International League standings.
The Toledo Mudhens, meanwhile, dropped their third straight game to Louisville, 6-4. All six Louisville runs came in the second inning.
In other International League play, league-leading Syracuse took two games from Richmond, 2-0 and 5-2; while Rochester defeated Tidewater 8-6.
The Jets meet Winnipeg at Columbus tonight for the final game of their four-game series, and the Mudhens take on Louisville again at Louisville. The Jets and Mudhens play Wednesday at Columbus.

Pickaway-Ross All-Stars Top Circleville, 3-1

Circleville's All-Star "9" were edged by a tough Pickaway-Ross All-Star squad, 3-1, Monday night.
The winners collected two hits and three runs while the Circleville bunch managed three hits but only one counter.
Brent Mancini tossed for the Circleville team allowing two hits and one base on balls while fanning eight batters.
Reichelderfer whiffed 13 would-be hitters walking three and being touched for three hits.
Rawlings nailed a homer for the winners and Randy Cradlebaugh hit a two-baser for the Circleville stars.
Lord Hill Wins At Scioto Downs
Lord Hill, owned by Harry L. Margulis of Ashville, won the eighth race at Scioto Downs in a new lifetime mark of 2:05 1-5.
The winner returned $12.80, $7 and $4.40. Twigg Adios was worth $17.60 and $6.80 for second and Miss Bay Way paid $4.20 for show.
Skipper Chief and Tigapa combined (3-6) for a daily double payoff of $195.60. The 7-8 quinnella returned $56.10.
Attendance was 4,377; handle $200,837.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Dick Battista, of Astoria, N. Y., lost his final game of the tournament, but nevertheless won the championship Monday night in the $37,000 Grand Rapids Open Bowling Tournament.
The big burly left-hander dropped the 217-200 decision to runner-up Nelson Burton Jr., of St. Louis, Mo., in the tournament's 40th and last game, but going into the playoff tilt, had built up a lead of almost 300 pins over Burton, a four time titlist this year.

Merchants Blast O-I In Slo Pitch

Circleville Merchants out-slugged the Owens Illinois nine to take a 15-9 decision in a Slo Pitch contest Monday.
Bob Weffler played the ball for four hits to lead the Merchants at the plate and Frank Mace garnered four safeties to pace the O-I attack on the Merchants mound corp.
Jake Bailey connected for a four bagger for the winners.

State's Prep Grid Teams Set Practice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With the proposed state football playoffs dead, Ohio high school teams concentrate on league and mythical state crowns when they open preseason practice this week.
Ohio schools will be divided into three divisions, Classes AAA, AA and A, for the first time in football. They have been playing in two divisions, Class AA and A.
Circleville High School and Teays Valley High School will be competing in the Class AA division while Logan Elm High School and Westfall High School fall into the Class A category.
All four schools will begin football practice Wednesday.

The governing Ohio High School Athletic Association has placed 271 football-playing schools in AAA, 276 in AA and 171 in A.
Schools which open Aug. 31 or Sept. 1 can begin practice Wednesday. Those beginning school Sept. 2 or 3 will start drill Thursday and schools opening Sept. 4 or later wait until Friday for practice.
Opening regular season games are Friday, Sept. 11.
Principals favored three classes, but turned down an OHSAA proposal for state football play-offs in two controversial votes during the 1969-70 school year.
The OHSAA will conduct weekly computerized ratings of the three classes for the first time on an experimental basis this season. Ratings will not be published.
The Associated Press, however, will continue to rate schools with separate weekly polls for each class. A selected panel of sports writers and broadcasters from around the state will rate the teams.
Upper Arlington, now under new coach Pete Corey, will seek its fourth straight big school title. Norwalk St. Paul won the 1969 small school crown.
Behind Upper Arlington, in order, last fall were Elyria, Cincinnati Moeller, Canton McKinley, Warren Western Reserve, Akron Garfield, Niles McKinley, Steubenville, Jackson and Shelby.
The small school's top 13 after Norwalk St. Paul were Newark Catholic, Mechanicsburg, Cory Rawson, Dennison St. Mary, Marion Pleasant, McDonald, Granville, Paint Valley and Mt. Gilead.
Stockton In Top 10 Golf Cash Winners
NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Stockton, who captured the Professional Golfers Association title Sunday, edged into the top 10 in money winnings, according to figures released by the PGA Monday.
Stockton topped Arnold Palmer by two strokes at Tulsa, Okla., firing a 72-hole total of 279 and earning the $40,000 first prize. It moved the 28-year-old Californian from 27th place to No. 10 with earnings in 1970 of $97,496.
Palmer, who won $18,500, went over the $100,000 mark for the fifth successive year and moved from ninth to sixth place with $112,869. The leader is Jack Nicklaus with $134,660.

Green Bay Packers Looking Better, But '70 Not Year

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer
GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The "Pack will be back," but 1970 probably won't be the year. Coach Phil Bengtson has almost completely rebuilt the famed Green Bay Packers who swept three consecutive National Football League titles and two Super Bowl championships in 1965-66-67. Retirements forced most of the changes, while trades accomplished the rest.
The green-and-gold-clad warriors still around who were vital parts of those "Golden Years," include quarterback Bart Starr, now in his 15th NFL season; wide receiver Carroll Dale, center Ken Bowman, guard Gale Gillingham; defensive end Lionel Aldridge, linebackers Dave Robinson and Ray Nitschke and defensive backs Willie Wood and Bob Jeter.
Gillingham is the youngster of the group at 26, while Aldridge and Robinson are 29 each. Bowman is 27; Dale 32; Nitschke, Wood and Jeter, each 33 and Starr 36.
While Green Bay might have improved itself with trades and the college draft, it is not believed the Packers can catch either Minnesota or Detroit who they finished behind in the Central Division last season.
Starr is a proven leader, but injuries have cut deeply into his playing time the last two seasons. Don Horn, a fourth-year man out of San Diego State, could provide the Packers with a more exciting attack if he takes over for Starr. Horn also is more erratic.
One spot Phil Bengtson is not worried about is running back, where he can call on five veterans with impressive credentials. The most explosive are speedsters Travis Williams and Dave Hampton, while Perry Williams, Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski are only a step behind.

The running back spots are so well fortified that Bengtson traded veteran Elijah Pitts along with offensive lineman Bob Hyland and linebacker Lee Roy Caffey to the Bears for Chicago's No. 1 draft pick.
Nitschke is flanked at line-backer by Robinson, recuperation from a cracked rib suffered in practice, and Fred Carr, the Packers' top draft choice in 1968 who has taken over for the departed Caffey.
The unexpected retirement of Herb Adderley has left a big hole at left cornerback. Bengtson will fill the post with Leon Harden of Texas-El Paso, who was on the taxi squad last season, or rookies Ken Ellis of Southern, a speedster, and Alvin Matthews, the second round draft choice from Texas A. & I.
The rest of the defensive backfield remains intact: Wood at the other corner and Jeter and Doug Hart at the safeties.
Ken Bowman hasn't been ousted from the center job since halfway through the first superbowl game in 1967. He's flanked by guards Bill Lueck and Gillingham and tackles Francis Peay and Dick Himes.
John Spilis, a second-year man from northern Illinois taking over for the retired Boyd Bowler, is a perfect partner for Dale at the wide receiver spots.

Veteran John Hilton, obtained from Pittsburgh and sophomore Ron Jones will battle for the tight end spot with Rich McGeorge, the Packers' other No. 1 draft choice, who just got out of the Army last weekend.
The field goal kicking, which will be handled by either Eooth Lusteg or Joe Runk, can't help but be better. Last season, the Packers only connected on 6 of 21 and had seven blocked.

A good-hitting bench doesn't hurt when you're going for a pennant.

It's even better when your Bench catches.

Johnny Bench, Cincinnati's phenom-in-residence, does both the hitting and catching for the Reds—good reason why they're atop the National League's West Division race by 13 games.

Bench laced a three-run homer among his three hits, lifting his league lead to 41 round-trippers and 121 RBIs, as the Reds squashed Philadelphia 9-3 Monday night.

The homer also tied him with Roy Campanella for most hits by a catcher in a season, al-

Joe Namath Rejoins Jets; Cook Is Lost To Bengals

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There was good news for the New York Jets and bad news for the Cincinnati Bengals in pro football today.

Joe Namath, the colorful and controversial star quarterback, was scheduled to report to the Jets' training camp after missing the first two exhibition games of the season. The Bengals lost their star QB, Greg Cook, for the entire season.

Namath, the Super Bowl hero of two years ago, passed a one-hour and 45-minute physical examination Monday and a happy Weeb Ewbank, Coach of the Jets, said: "We're happy to

Jets Blank Whips, 5-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Columbus Jets blanked the last-place Winnipeg Whips 5-0 Monday night to remain a fraction of a percentage point behind Rochester in the race for second place in International League standings.

The Toledo Mudhens, meanwhile, dropped their third straight game to Louisville, 6-4. All six Louisville runs came in the second inning.

In other International League play, league-leading Syracuse took two games from Richmond, 2-0 and 5-2; while Rochester defeated Tidewater 8-6.

The Jets meet Winnipeg at Columbus tonight for the final game of their four-game series, and the Mudhens take on Louisville again at Louisville. The Jets and Mudhens play Wednesday at Columbus.

Pickaway-Ross All-Stars Top Circleville, 3-1

Circleville's All-Star "9" were edged by a tough Pickaway-Ross All-Star squad, 3-1, Monday night.

The winners collected two hits and three runs while the Circleville bunch managed three hits but only one counter.

Brent Mancini tossed for the Circleville team allowing two hits and one base on balls while fanning eight batters.

Reichelderfer whiffed 13 would-be hitters walking three and being touched for three hits.

Rawlings nailed a homer for the winners and Randy Cradlebaugh hit a two-baser for the Circleville stars.

Lord Hill Wins At Scioto Downs

Lord Hill, owned by Harry L. Margulis of Ashville, won the eighth race at Scioto Downs in a new lifetime mark of 2:05 1-5.

The winner returned $12.80, $7 and $4.40. Twiggys Adios was worth $17.60 and $6.80 for second and Miss Bay Way paid $4.20 for show.

Skipper Chief and Tigapa combined (3-6) for a daily double payoff of $195.60. The 7-8 quinella returned $56.10.

Attendance was 4,377; handle $200,837.

though seven of Bench's shots were hit while playing other positions.

Los Angeles, runners-up in the West, lost ground in its chase when beaten by St. Louis 11-8. Elsewhere, Chicago spanked San Diego 7-0 and San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 5-4.

Tony Perez, the other swinger in the Reds' one-two punch, hit No. 37, also a three-run job, to help Jim Merritt become the NL's first 18-game winner.

Merritt, a swinger himself, hit his third homer of the year to aid his cause.

Bob Gibson won his 17th game with ninth-inning relief help from Chuck Taylor in St. Louis' victory over Los Angeles. Gibson was pulled after serving his 14th hit—a one-out single to Ted Sizemore. Taylor then got Billy Grabarkewitz to line into a game-ending double play.

The Dodgers' hit total gave them 130 in their last nine game—but three were losses.

Milt Pappas stymied San Diego on six hits and Don Kessinger's single keyed a three-run fourth for Chicago. Billy Williams played in his 1,047th straight game and moved into third place on the all-time durability list. The Chicago outfielder, replacing Joe Sewell of Cleveland, now ranks behind Lou Gehrig's 2,130 and Everett Scott's 1,307.

San Francisco gave East Division-leading Pittsburgh the Wilkes—Willie Mays and Willie McCovey. Mays singled and McCovey slammed his 31st homer off Bruce Dal Canton in the eighth to give the Giants a comeback victory.

McCovey, who beats the famous right-field shift against him with the long ball, said he's not about to change his style.

"I'm not a Matty Alou-type hitter," said the broad-beamed first baseman, "and I'm not going to be... it (my style) worked last year when I hit .320 against the shift."

SPORTS Highlights

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Dick Battista, of Astoria, N. Y., lost his final game of the tournament, but nevertheless won the championship Monday night in the $37,000 Grand Rapids Open Bowling Tournament.

The big burly left-hander dropped the 217-200 decision to runner-up Nelson Burton Jr., of St. Louis, Mo., in the tournament's 40th and last game, but going into the payoff tilt, had built up a lead of almost 300 pins over Burton, a four time titlist this year.

Merchants Blast O-I In Slo Pitch

Circleville Merchants out-slugged the Owens Illinois nine to take a 15-9 decision in a Slow Pitch contest Monday.

Bob Weffler rapped the ball for four hits to lead the Merchants at the plate and Frank Mace garnered four safeties to pace the O-I attack on the Merchants mound corp.

Jake Bailey connected for a four bagger for the winners.

State's Prep Grid Teams Set Practice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — With the proposed state football playoffs dead, Ohio high school teams concentrate on league and mythical state crowns when they open preseason practice this week.

Ohio schools will be divided into three divisions, Classes AAA, AA and A, for the first time in football. They have been playing in two divisions, Class AA and A.

Circleville High School and Teays Valley High School will be competing in the Class AA division while Logan Elm High School and Westfall High School fall into the Class A category.

All four schools will begin football practice Wednesday.

The governing Ohio High School Athletic Association has placed 271 football-playing schools in AAA, 276 in AA and 171 in A.

Schools which open Aug. 31 or Sept. 1 can begin practice Wednesday. Those beginning school Sept. 2 or 3 will start drill Thursday and schools opening Sept. 4 or later wait until Friday for practice.

Opening regular season games are Friday, Sept. 11.

Principals favored three classes, but turned down an OHSAA proposal for state football playoffs in two controversial votes during the 1969-70 school year.

The OHSAA will conduct weekly computerized ratings of the three classes for the first time on an experimental basis this season. Ratings will not be published.

The Associated Press, however, will continue to rate schools with separate weekly polls for each class. A selected panel of sports writers and broadcasters from around the state will rate the teams.

Upper Arlington, now under new coach Pete Corey, will seek its fourth straight big school title. Norwalk St. Paul won the 1969 small school crown.

Behind Upper Arlington, in order, last fall were Elyria, Cincinnati Moeller, Canton McKinley, Warren Western Reserve, Akron Garfield, Niles McKinley, Steubenville, Jackson and Shelby.

The small school's top 13 after Norwalk St. Paul were Newark Catholic, Mechanicsburg, Cory Rawson, Dennison St. Mary, Marion Pleasant, McDonald, Granville, Paint Valley and Mt. Gilead.

Stockton In Top 10 Golf Cash Winners

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Stockton, who captured the Professional Golfers Association title Sunday, edged into the top 10 in money winnings, according to figures released by the PGA Monday.

Stockton topped Arnold Palmer by two strokes at Tulsa, Okla., firing a 72-hole total of 279 and earning the $40,000 first prize. It moved the 28-year-old Californian from 27th place to No. 10 with earnings in 1970 of $97,496.

Palmer, who won $18,500, went over the $100,000 mark for the fifth successive year and moved from ninth to sixth place with $112,869. The leader is Jack Nicklaus with $134,660.

Green Bay Packers Looking Better, But '70 Not Year

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The "Pack will be back," but 1970 probably won't be the year. Coach Phil Bengtson has almost completely rebuilt the famed Green Bay Packers who swept three consecutive National Football League titles and two Super Bowl championships in 1956-66. Retirements forced most of the changes, while trades accomplished the rest.

The green-and-gold-clad warriors still around who were vital parts of those "Golden Years," include quarterback Bart Starr, now in his 15th NFL season; wide receiver Carroll Dale, center Ken Bowman, guard Gale Gillingham; defensive end Lionel Aldridge, linebackers Dave Robinson and Ray Nitschke and defensive backs Willie Wood and Bob Jeter.

Gillingham is the youngest of the group at 26, while Aldridge and Robinson are 29 each. Bowman is 27; Dale 32; Nitschke, Wood and Jeter, each 33 and Starr 36.

While Green Bay might have improved itself with trades and the college draft, it is not believed the Packers can catch either Minnesota or Detroit who they finished behind in the Central Division last season.

Starr is a proven leader, but injuries have cut deeply into his playing time the last two seasons. Don Horn, a fourth-year man out of San Diego State, could provide the Packers with a more exciting attack if he takes over for Starr. Horn also is more erratic.

One spot Phil Bengtson is not worried about is running back, where he can call on five veterans with impressive credentials. The most explosive are speedsters Travis Williams and Dave Hampton, while Perry Williams, Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski are only a step behind.

The running back spots are so well fortified that Bengtson traded veteran Elijah Pitts along with offensive lineman Bob Hyland and linebacker Lee Roy Caffey to the Bears for Chicago's No. 1 draft pick.

Nitschke is flanked at linebacker by Robinson, recuperation from a cracked rib suffered in practice, and Fred Carr, the Packers' top draft choice in 1968 who has taken over for the departed Caffey.

The unexpected retirement of Herb Adderley has left a big hole at left cornerback. Bengtson will fill the post with Leon Harden of Texas-El Paso, who was on the taxi squad last season, or rookies Ken Ellis of Southern, a speedster, and Alvin Matthews, the second round draft choice from Texas A. & I.

The rest of the defensive backfield remains intact: Wood at the other corner and Jeter and Doug Hart at the safeties.

Ken Bowman hasn't been ousted from the center job since halfway through the first super bowl game in 1967. He's flanked by guards Bill Lueck and Gillingham and tackles Francis Peay and Dick Himes.

John Spilis, a second-year man from northern Illinois taking over for the retired Boyd Bowler, is a perfect partner for Dale at the wide receiver spots.

Veteran John Hilton, obtained from Pittsburgh and sophomore Ron Jones will battle for the tight end spot with Rich McGeorge, the Packers' other No. 1 draft choice, who just got out of the Army last weekend.

The field goal kicking, which will be handled by either Looth Lusteg or Joe Runk, can't help but be better. Last season, the Packers only connected on 6 of 21 and had seven blocked.

McLain Ousted; Tigers Defeat A's

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Denny McLain knows how to face the music, but he's no match for Lloyd Fox' melody and Russ Goetz' lyrics in the same earful.

McLain lost a battle of nerves with Oakland organist Fox and a war of words with Umpire Goetz Monday night before the Detroit Tigers rallied to topple the A's 5-3 on Norm Cash's three-run homer in the eighth inning.

In other American League games, Washington ripped Kansas City 7-0 on Jim Hannan's one-hitter; Baltimore edged Milwaukee 3-2 on Boog Powell's eighth-inning homer; California blanked Cleveland 3-0 behind Tom Murphy and Boston trimmed the Chicago White Sox 7-2.

McLain, making his 12th appearance for the Tigers since being reinstated by Commissioner Bowie Kuhn on July 1, pitched hitless ball until the fifth, when Felipe Alou cracked a leadoff single.

Fox, whose clarion chords during a 1969 Tigers-A's game rattled McLain into a run-costing balk, picked up the tempo after Alou's hit. McLain complained to Goetz and the pite umpire ordered the organist to stop playing while the pitcher was in his motion.

But Fox continued to pound the keyboard — between pitches — as McLain walked Frank Fernandez and was clipped for a run-scoring single by A's hurler John "Blue Moon" Odom. Then, after an error filled the bases, Goetz caught McLain breaking his motion and called

McLain charged the umpire and was ejected after a heated exchange.

"He started his motion and then stopped," Goetz said. "He claimed he had stepped off the rubber, but I didn't have a chance to ask anybody. If they (the Tigers) had asked me, I would have checked with the first base or third base umpire."

"But he came in with some choice words about my ancestry. I ignored it at first, but he repeated it and I said 'You've got to go.' It's the first time I've had to throw a pitcher out of a game."

McLain's account of the incident differed from the umpire's on all points except one. "I know I was off the rubber," he said. "I waited for him to check with somebody. We asked him to check. Then I ran in and questioned his ancestry."

Denny also insisted that Fox' organ antics hadn't been a factor in the flare-up. "I couldn't care less about the organ," he said. "If Finley (A's boss Charlie Finley) wants a three-ring circus, which is what he's got here, he can have it."

The Senators ran their winning streak to seven games, longest in the two-year tenure of Manager Ted Williams, as Hannan, 9-5, limited the Royals to a fifth-inning triple by Paul Schaal on which left fielder Frank Howard just missed a shoe-string catch.

Powell's leadoff homer in the eighth broke a 2-2 tie at Milwaukee and gave Jim Palmer his 17th victory of the season. Chico Salmon also homered for the Orioles and Palmer finished with a three-hitter.

Alex Johnson crashed a 460-foot homer off Sam McDowell to open the Angels' seventh and provide Murphy, who tossed a five-hitter, with the only run he needed.

Home runs by Reggie Smith and Tony Conigliaro backed the strong pitching of Cal Koonce and carried the Red Sox past the skidding White Sox in an afternoon game.

Angels Shut Out Tribe, Win 5-0

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — In Tom Murphy's opinion, they just don't make baseballs like they used to.

In Sam McDowell's opinion, "those awful California Angels have the Indian sign on him."

Murphy fired a five-hit shut-out and the Angels knocked off McDowell and the Cleveland Indians, 5-0, Monday night.

It took Murphy only 84 pitches to scuttle the Tribe, but he made another 20 or so just changing baseballs.

"Some are small and light, some are big and heavy and some are small and heavy," Murphy said after running his record to 13-7 with his second shutout of the season. "There is no consistency. And there's no doubt that they are a lot different than they were last year."

McDowell wasn't so choosy so Alex Johnson hit one 460-foot over the centerfield fence in the seventh inning to sever a scoreless duel and send the Angels to their 13th lifetime victory over McDowell. They have beaten Sudden Sam more than any other team.

The triumph, coupled with Oakland's loss to Detroit, shunted the Angels back into second place in the American League West, a position they will attempt to solidify tonight when they send 17-game winner Clyde Wright against the Indians.

Nine Local Youths To Attend Alcohol And Drug Confab

Nine local students will be among the more than 150 participants at the Sixth Annual Teenage Institute on Alcohol and Drugs at Whittenberg University in Springfield, August 23-26.

areas program of aid for school districts overcrowded because of nearby military bases and other federal installations.

The measure also contains $86 million more than the President sought for loans for needy college students.

The vote in the House to override was 289-114.

Democrats argue that domestic needs—especially education for the disadvantaged—should be given a higher priority in the current budget.

Offsetting cuts, particularly in military and foreign programs can be made elsewhere, they assert.

Nixon also vetoed last Tuesday an $18 billion omnibus appropriations measure, chiefly because its allocations for housing programs went far beyond his budget.

The House sustained his veto of this measure, falling 63 votes short of the needed two-thirds.

NOT TO DECIDE IS TO DECIDE

A DOVETAIL, you might say, is Lt. Louis P. Font, 23, shown at Ft. Meade, Md., where he stated that he would rather go to prison than serve in the U.S. Army as long as the Vietnam war continues. He is petitioning to be discharged as a conscientious objector. He's West Pointer.

Borman Reports No POW Progress

PARIS (AP) — Former U.S. astronaut Frank Borman says he has no plans to seek a meeting with North Vietnamese peace negotiators here while on a presidential mission to obtain information about American prisoners of war held by Hanoi.

A spokesman for the Communist delegation said last week it would refuse any request for a meeting with Borman.

Borman said Monday he met "with no concrete success" in visits to Moscow and Stockholm. He is scheduled to meet with Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, who heads the U.S. negotiating team and French officials before moving on to Geneva Wednesday.

City To See Record School Enrollment

City schools will open Sept. 1 for a full school year with a record enrollment anticipated according to an announcement released today by Circleville Superintendent Fritz Jacobs.

Kindergarten students will report Wednesday, Sept. 2, for one hour sessions beginning 8:45 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. during the first week only.

A general teachers' meeting is planned for Aug. 31 beginning 8 a.m. at the Circleville High School building.

All students who have not registered and are new to the school district should do so immediately. High school and junior high students should enroll with principals Paul Sarchet or J. L. Chilcote. All elementary students may register at the superintendent's office in the junior high building, 520 S. Court.

All new students must be pre-registered and have received a specific school assignment.

Heavy enrollment in some areas have caused certain grades to be filled and additional enrollment cut off. Students are assigned to the next nearest school when this occurs.

Teaching assignments have been completed and the buildings being readied for a record enrollment. The closing of St. Joseph School, together with the many new families moving into the community has resulted in the employment of nine additional teachers over last year's staff.

Two additional classrooms are being readied for the 1970-71 school term at Atwater Elementary. It is hoped that they will be ready by opening day. If not, two sixth grade sections will meet at Atwater and be transported to South Court until the rooms are ready for occupancy. They will be returned each day to Atwater for dismissal.

All school offices are open daily Monday through Friday. High school students desiring schedule changes must do so before school opens. The administration requests that these changes be made the week of Aug. 24 if possible.

Jacobs reported that the same dress code policy that existed last year will be in effect at the beginning of the school year.

Urge Wider Use Of Heart Drugs

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Veterans Administration heart specialist says new evidence justifies extending potentially life-saving drug treatment for high blood pressure to millions who suffer only mild or moderate cases.

Dr. Edward Freis reported Monday the world's first comprehensive evidence that drug treatment for high blood pressure—known to be life-saving in many severe cases—also is highly beneficial in mild and moderate cases.

Specifically, evidence shows such drugs can cut death rates sharply and reduce or essentially eliminate certain serious complications, said Freis who is with the Washington, D. C., VA Hospital.

The new evidence was obtained, he said, during a five-year cooperative study conducted among 380 male patients at 16 of VA's 166 hospitals throughout the country.

High blood pressure—technically known as hypertension—affects at least 20 million Americans, and is the second most common cause of death in the United States. Most suffer mild or moderate cases.

But he said that use of readily available drugs to treat them has been a subject of medical controversy, despite striking benefits demonstrated for more severe cases.

At least half of the mild and moderate cases fall in the potentially dangerous category—which could lead to death or serious complications such as congestive heart failure or cerebral strokes, Freis said. The doctor said only about 15 per cent are on effective drug treatment.

He listed two reasons: —Many doctors have been reluctant to use the drugs for mild or moderate cases—for fear of adverse side-effects. But Freis said the new VA studies have demonstrated beneficial effects of the daily dosages outweigh the undesirable ones.

—All too many patients don't take their malady seriously after a doctor tells them they fall in the mild or moderate category.

—All patients—men or women—whose "diastolic"—or relaxed—blood pressure reaches 105 or higher, even though it might drop temporarily from such figures during resting periods.

2 Are Arrested Near Cincinnati For Kidnaping

CINCINNATI (AP) — A Detroit man and his wife have been arrested following an apparent kidnaping that began in the Michigan city Monday and ended later in the day in Walton, Ky.

The two were taken into custody at the bus station here.

Julius Evans, 50, of Detroit said he was locked in the trunk for the entire trip down Interstate 75 until he grabbed a wrench from a tool box and loosened some bolts in the trunk lid. He said he waited for the car to stop and hopped out after it pulled into a service station at Walton.

He said he had been approached at about 5:30 a. m. on a Detroit street by a woman who asked for a ride to her "sister's place." When he arrived he said only a man was waiting and the man slipped behind him and hit him over the head.

Dental Hygienist Can Make Hay If Qualified

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — A dentist advertised in a local weekly newspaper promising the right dental hygienist $750 per 12-hour week and:

A Cadillac convertible, free life insurance, a furnished apartment with all utilities paid, and use of a mink stole on weekdays and a full length mink coat on weekends.

The dentist, who wished to remain anonymous, told newsmen that the supply of trained hygienists is so short "you have to offer everything to get one."

Hygienists clean teeth and take X-rays.

Even if he reneges on his offer he said, he hopes to hire a suitable hygienist from among the 20 who have applied.

Borman Reports No POW Progress

PARIS (AP) — Former U.S. astronaut Frank Borman says he has no plans to seek a meeting with North Vietnamese peace negotiators here while on a presidential mission to obtain information about American prisoners of war held by Hanoi.

A spokesman for the Communist delegation said last week it would refuse any request for a meeting with Borman.

Borman said Monday he met "with no concrete success" in visits to Moscow and Stockholm. He is scheduled to meet with Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, who heads the U.S. negotiating team and French officials before moving on to Geneva Wednesday.

City To See Record School Enrollment

City schools will open Sept. 1 for a full school year with a record enrollment anticipated according to an announcement released today by Circleville Superintendent Fritz Jacobs. Kindergarten students will report Wednesday, Sept. 2, for one hour sessions beginning 8:45 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. during the first week only.

A general teachers' meeting is planned for Aug. 31 beginning 8 a.m. at the Circleville High School building.

All students who have not registered and are new to the school district should do so immediately. High school and junior high students should enroll with principals Paul Sarchet or J. L. Chilcote. All elementary students may register at the superintendent's office in the junior high building, 520 S. Court.

All new students must be pre-registered and have received a specific school assignment. Heavy enrollment in some areas have caused certain grades to be filled and additional enrollment cut off. Students are assigned to the next nearest school when this occurs.

Teaching assignments have been completed and the buildings being readied for a record enrollment. The closing of St. Joseph School, together with the many new families moving into the community has resulted in the employment of nine additional teachers over last year's staff.

Two additional classrooms are being readied for the 1970-71 school term at Atwater Elementary. It is hoped that they will be ready by opening day. If not, two sixth grade sections will meet at Atwater and be transported to South Court until the rooms are ready for occupancy. They will be returned each day to Atwater for dismissal.

All school offices are open daily Monday through Friday. High school students desiring schedule changes must do so before school opens. The administration requests that these changes be made the week of Aug. 24 if possible.

Jacobs reported that the same dress code policy that existed last year will be in effect at the beginning of the school year.

Following is a list of the teaching assignments in the city school system.

Urge Wider Use Of Heart Drugs

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Veterans Administration heart specialist says new evidence justifies extending potentially life-saving drug treatment for high blood pressure to millions who suffer only mild or moderate cases.

Dr. Edward Freis reported Monday the world's first comprehensive evidence that drug treatment for high blood pressure—known to be life-saving in many severe cases—also is highly beneficial in mild and moderate cases.

Specifically, evidence shows such drugs can cut death rates sharply and reduce or essentially eliminate certain serious complications, said Freis who is with the Washington, D. C., VA Hospital.

The new evidence was obtained, he said, during a five-year cooperative study conducted among 380 male patients at 16 of VA's 166 hospitals throughout the country.

He listed two reasons: —Many doctors have been reluctant to use the drugs for mild or moderate cases—for fear of adverse side-effects. But Freis said the new VA studies have High blood pressure—technically known as hypertension—affects at least 20 million Americans, and is the second most common cause of death in the United States. Most suffer mild or moderate cases.

But he said that use of readily available drugs to treat them has been a subject of medical controversy, despite striking benefits demonstrated for more severe cases.

At least half of the mild and moderate cases fall in the potentially dangerous category—which could lead to death or serious complications such as congestive heart failure or cerebral strokes, Freis said. The doctor said only about 15 per cent are on effective drug treatment.

He listed two reasons:

—Many doctors have been reluctant to use the drugs for mild or moderate cases—for fear of adverse side-effects. But Freis said the new VA studies have demonstrated beneficial effects of the daily dosages outweigh the undesirable ones.

—All too many patients don't take their malady seriously after a doctor tells them they fall in the mild or moderate category.

The drugs used in the extensive VA study—in which about 25 other VA doctors collaborated—consisted of two types of tablets. One was a combination of hydrochlorothiazide and reserpine; the other consisted of a drug called hydrochlorothiazide.

But Freis said a number of other good anti-hypertensive drugs are also available, and he urged doctors to use any one of them for:

—All male patients having so-called "fixed hypertension"—that is, those whose elevated blood pressure does not come down to normal when they rest.

—All patients—men or women—whose "diastolic" or relaxed blood pressure reaches 105 or higher, even though it might demonstrated beneficial effects of the daily dosages outweigh the undesirable ones.
